CABINET TO DISCUSS BRITISH RECOGNITION OF FRANCO'S REGIME

French Government Leaves Question Unsettled, But Sends Senator Bedard to Burgos for Negotiations With Insurgents—May Seek Concessions in Return for New Status

LONDON, Feb. 14 (P.).—The British Cabinet will meet tomorrow to consider the whole Spanish situation, including recognition of General Franco as head of the legal Government. It was predicted tonight the Cabinet will agree on recognition "as soon as possible," leaving to Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, to decide when that time has arrived.

The French Government, due to determined opposition of a group of anti-Fascist Ministers, delayed recognition and left the diplomatic situation unchanged. It was agreed, however, to send Senator Leon Bedard on a second mission to Burgos for negotiations which might lead to eventual recognition of the insurgents.

MAY SEEK CONCESSIONS

In view of this decision British recognition may be delayed until Senator Bedard reports back to Paris, because it is reported France and Great Britain may seek concessions from General Franco in return for recognition.

The form of these concessions is not known, but it is believed they include generous treatment of the Republicans when the fighting ceases. It is no secret official circles here are not satisfied with General Franco's decree outlining the civil

PONTIFF LAID TO LAST REST

Magnificent and Solemn Ceremony Marks Burial Of Pope Pius XI

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 14 (AP).—Pope Pius XI was entombed in a crypt of St. Peter's today with magnificence and solemnity seldom seen in these modern times.

As night fell upon the great dimly-lighted Basilica, the Pontiff—invested in a red chasuble and a mitre of cloth of gold and reposing in a triple casket—was lowered into the grotto beneath the dome.

There the Holy Father was received by some thirty candle-bearing cardinals, a few other dignitaries and persons closest to him who had descended after the ceremony at the altar of the Chair of St. Peter was completed.

LAID BESIDE TOMBS

In the crypt where once he remarked he would "find sweet repose," the Pontiff was laid beside the tombs of popes, kings, cardinals and others who were mighty on earth.

About 8,000 persons—dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church, diplomats, officials, priests and humble folk—were present. There were many bright uniforms, all with a touch of mourning black. Those without uniforms wore formal eve-

SENATE FINDS LACK OF WORK

Meighen Warns That Upper House Will Not Be Rushed By Late Flood

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—A warning to the Government it must not expect the Senate to give only a cursory glance at legislation which ordinarily floods into the Upper House towards the end of the session was voiced in the Senate tonight by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader.

"There will be no bill pass through this chamber without our having time to study it to the best of our capacity," Mr. Meighen said. He spoke resentfully of the circumstance which brought about repeated, lengthy adjournments of the Senate at the beginning of the session, followed as these were towards the session's close with an inpouring of bills which the elder statesmen had little time to study.

NO WORK TO BE DONE

A brief exchange on the floor of the Senate between Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader, and Mr. Meighen found them in agreement on the point of deploring that, after an adjournment taken on January 18, the House reassembled tonight and found there was no work to be done.

He was disappointed, Mr. Dandurand said, that no legislation had appeared from the House of Commons, and that none was being initiated in the Senate.

Senator Creelman MacArthur (Lib., P.E.I.) suggested Senators Dandurand and Meighen get together and see that legislation might be initiated in the Upper House.

The Senate will meet tomorrow.

INJURED BY SUDDEN FALL OF HIGH WALL

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 14 (CP).—A fifty-six-year-old workman was in hospital tonight for treatment of injuries suffered when he was buried up to his neck by a sudden fall of bricks and mortar in a disused brickyard here.

Fellow-workers toiled half an hour to free Lancy Wood, when a ten-foot wall collapsed and covered him with debris. He was taken in a semi-conscious condition to hospital, where he complained of pains in his hips and chest.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14 (AP).—The Government seismograph station recorded a light earthquake, its epicentre about 100 miles south, at 6.40 o'clock (P.S.T.) tonight. The quake was not felt by persons on the street here. No damage was reported.

Tentative Route For Procession Given by Mayor

Announces Plans of Royal Visit in May After Conference With Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance—Their Majesties May Be Greeted at City Hall by Council

AS the result of a conference yesterday afternoon with Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, Mayor Andrew McGavin announced the tentative route of a Royal procession from Government House through the city during the visit of Their Majesties in May.

Mayor McGavin stated Their Majestics would probably leave Government House at 10:30 o'clock on the morning of May 30 and proceed along Rockland Avenue to Vancouver Street, north along Vancouver Street to Yates Street, along Yates Street to Douglas Street, and north along Douglas Street to the City Hall.

In the council chamber of the City Hall, Their Majestics would be introduced to Mayor McGavin and Mrs. McGavin and the ten aldermen and their wives. The city clerk and Mayor's secretary would be the only other civic officials present.

WELCOME ADDRESS

A suggestion will be made that Vancouver Island mayors and reeves with their wives be also presented to the King and Queen. In the council chamber, an illuminated address of welcome and loyalty would be handed to a designated member of the Royal party.

After leaving the City Hall, the Royal party would proceed west

U.S. ARMS BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Passage Assured With Republicans in Favor of Defence Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (CP).—The United States House of Representatives took up a bill embodying the bulk of the Administration's defence programme today with passage a foregone conclusion, and with Representative Harter (D., Ohio) suggesting a "Valentine" for the dictators in the form of an immediate expansion of American air forces.

Although defence and rearmament have been a major subject of controversy in Washington since the European crisis of last Fall, virtually all partisanship was removed from today's discussion by the decision of a Republican caucus last week to back the measure.

LESSER OBJECTIONS

Controversy was reduced to occasional objections to some individual provisions of the bill, such as the one which provides for the construction of 3,032 army airplanes in two years.

Objections on this score were not directed at the proposal to increase the army quota of planes, but followed the attitude taken at the Republican caucus, that the increase should be spread over a longer period, lest a great number of planes quickly become obsolete.

The plane increase would raise the army's total to 5,500 at a cost of $300,000,000.

GROCER ROUTS ROBBER

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP).—When an armed bandit threatened Henry Smallwood last night, the grocer grabbed a carving knife and defied the robber to take money from his till. The marauder fled.

EXTEND SCOPE OF OCCUPATION

Japanese Forces Advancing Quickly After Landing On Hainan Island

HONGKONG, Feb. 14 (AP).—Japanese forces moved quickly today toward complete occupation of Hainan, southern Chinese island near important French and British Empire routes and 750 miles due west of Luzon, one of the Philippine Islands.

Japanese naval units, with aviation support, landed at Yulinkan on Hainan's southernmost tip and in six hours penetrated fifteen miles inland. The occupation of northern Hainan points began on Friday.

(Sources in Paris said the occupation violated repeated Japanese promises to France and Britain. Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita told British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie Japan probably would hold Hainan until the end of the Chinese war and possibly indefinitely on grounds of military necessity.)

SEE NO CONNECTION

Neutral observers said they saw no connection between the penetration of southern Hainan and the Chinese-Japanese war.

If the Japanese Navy strengthens its hold in northern and southern Hainan, another link would be forged in the 3,000-mile island chain stretching from Sakhalin southward through the Japanese Archipelago to Hainan. Hongkong would be the only non-Japanese part of the chain. Sakhalin is an island in the Northern Pacific. Japan owns the southern part of it, Soviet Russia the north half.

BRITISH SOLDIER KILLED

JERUSALEM, Feb. 14 (AP).—Explosion of a land mine which killed one British soldier and wounded two others today brought to fifty-three the number of casualties blamed on Arab terrorists since the start of the London-Palestine peace talks a week ago today.

COMPLICATED BY TENSION

Earl of Perth Points Out Violation of Anglo-Italian Pact

Copyright, 1939, by the Havas News Agency

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP).—Increasing tension between Italy and France over territorial rights on the Mediterranean has complicated the Anglo-Italian Accord, it was indicated tonight.

Italy, claiming France has concentrated troops in French-protected Tunisia, where the Fascists are seeking concessions, has herself increased her effectives in neighboring Libya to 62,000, according to reports in well-informed circles.

PACT VIOLATED

In an interview with the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, in Rome last night, the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador, is said to have pointed out that unannounced Italian troop movements in Libya were in violation of the pact between London and Rome, signed April 16, 1938, but not put into effect until November 16, because of difficulties over the question of Italian troops fighting in Spain.

Lord Perth is said to have told the Italian Foreign Minister that reports of French army activity in North Africa were incorrect and that Italo-French tension might have regrettable repercussions on relations between London and Rome.

Count Ciano told Lord Perth that Italian effectives in that zone had previously been reduced to 28,000, a figure even lower than Italy was entitled to maintain under the London-Rome pact, according to unofficial versions of the interview.

BECAUSE OF THREAT

The troops were brought up to a strength of 62,000, Ciano continued, because of the French threat in neighboring Tunisia, where there was a heavy concentration of troops on the southern border touching Libya.

When Lord Perth expressed doubts concerning the source of Fascist information on French troop movements, the Italian Foreign Minister was reported to have replied that his data were absolutely correct. He added that Italian troop strength would be reduced to 30,000 when the situation "returned to normal," but warned that there might even be a further increase above present strength if necessary.

FRANCE BUYING 500 U.S. PLANES

Order Valued at $60,000,000 Without Contracts for Motors Worth Millions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP). — A French military mission in the United States has purchased 500 new warplanes, in addition to 100 ordered last year. The announcement was made by the French embassy.

No prices were given in the announcement, but it was understood the total would be well above $60,000,0000 and that contracts for motors would total millions more.

Last year the French placed orders for 100 Curtis-Wright pursuit planes at a cost of about $5,000,000. This year, 100 more ships of this type were ordered. The latter order was part of the total purchases of 500 craft announced today.

HEAVY DAMAGE WHEN OIL STOVE EXPLODES

RED DEER, Alta., Feb. 14 (CP).—Explosion of a small coal oil stove in the laboratory of the Red Deer Health Unit building caused $500 damage this afternoon. Chemicals in the room were set afire and all the laboratory equipment destroyed. No one was in the room at the time.

Declines Post As Transport Commissioner

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Wilfred Hanbury, of Vancouver, named to the Board of Transport Commissioners by the Government last Fall, has decided not to accept the post, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, stated tonight. Selection of another appointee has not yet been considered by the Cabinet.

When Mr. Hanbury was selected the acceptance of the appointment was contingent upon Mr. Hanbury being able to adjust his business affairs in Vancouver to enable him to move to Ottawa, and it is understood business considerations have caused him to decline the position.

"Flu" Sweeping Through States

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP).—Health officials took action today to halt the on-sweep of influenza and kindred diseases in Illinois and Michigan.

Eighty-four fresh cases were reported here. So far nine deaths have been recorded this month. Between 750 and 800 Chicago policemen were ill.

Praises Canada-U.S. Trade Agreement in Asking Ratification

Prime Minister Says Accord Marked Return to Sound Economics on Part of Three Countries—Manion Reserves His Comment

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King moved in the House of Commons today for the ratification of the new Canada-United States trade agreement, and declared the treaty, together with the trade pact between the United Kingdom and United States, marked "a return to sound economics" on the part of the three countries.

The two agreements, he declared proudly, were a great forward step in the betterment of relations between nations of the world and the first material breach in the structure of high tariffs and trade restrictions which made for economic conflict, ill will and war.

John Farr Simons, acting charge d'affaires for the United States in Ottawa, and other members of the United States Legation staff, sat in the gallery and heard Mr. Mackenzie King describe Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, as "a great reformer in the matter of trade."

By entering the present agreement, Mr. Mackenzie King said the Canadian Government not only made a contribution to good will, by making possible the United States-United Kingdom Agreement

THIRTY-TWO NATIONS ACCEPT GERMAN PLAN FOR REMOVAL OF JEWS FROM WITHIN REICH

Germany Told Best Endeavors Will Be Used by Committee to Develop Opportunities for Permanent Settlement of Exiles Within Next Five Years—To Cost $300,000,000

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP).—The inter-governmental committee on refugees provisionally accepted a German plan today for removing Jews from Germany, and authorized establishment of a private International Settlement Corporation to help pay the $300,000,000 cost. The committee notified Germany it "is using and will use its best endeavors to develop opportunities within the next five years for permanent settlement of involuntary emigrants from Germany within the limit of laws and practices of the member governments."

Thirty-two nations, including Canada, are represented in the inter-governmental committee.

It was understood the German plan stipulated:

THE STIPULATIONS

1. From 150,000 to 200,000 young Jewish wage earners would emigrate as soon as possible and would be expected to help their families emigrate later.

2. Remaining Jews would be permitted to return to their jobs in trade and industry, but only a scattering of Jews would be permitted in Aryan businesses.

3. A "certain proportion" of what remained of Jewish property and capital would be put in trust, from which emigrating Jews would be able to finance a small part of their expenses.

4. Jews would be permitted to buy, with percentages of their property, German machinery and other goods

Vote Credit Grant In Aid of Refugees In Czecho-Slovakia

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP-Havas).—The House of Commons adopted tonight, on third reading, the bill providing a £12,000,000 credit grant to aid Czecho-Slovak refugees, guaranteed by Great Britain, France and Czecho-Slovakia. Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the Commons the Prague Government has 186,000 refugees on its hands, of which an estimated 150,000 are Czechs.

Argentina Curtailing Its Imports

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 15 (AP).—The Ministry of Finance this morning announced a sweeping curtailment of imports from the United States. The announcement said the decrease was necessary to halt Argentina's unfavorable trade balance with the United States. This will mean a cut of at least 40 per cent from United States sales to Argentina in 1939, or at least $31,000,000.

STRIKE TIES UP JAMAICA PORTS

State of Emergency Proclaimed to Prevent Outbreaks of Violence

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Feb. 14 (CP).—Governor Sir Arthur Richards proclaimed a state of emergency in this British West Indies island tonight, as a general strike ordered by Alexander Bustamante, powerful labor leader, tied up all shipping activities in the island's ports.

Armored police patrolled streets of Kingston, Montego Bay in the west, and Black River on the south coast, after outbreak of the strike, which originated in a walkout of banana workers. No violence was reported, but the strike revived the colony's ever-present fears of labor disorders. Union officers have asked their men to refrain from any disorders.

Strikers meantime sought to have hotel and field workers join the walkout.

CAUSE OF STRIKE

The strike began yesterday at Montego Bay. It was ordered by Bustamante when the United Fruit Company refused to dismiss a laborer employed by them but lacking membership in Bustamante's union.

Strangely enough, the union to which the employee belonged a rival group, joined the strike. One banana ship left the harbor empty, although a few tenders were loaded by strike-breakers. Hundreds of stems of bananas lay on the docks.

Officers moved through the streets warily. Despite presence of hundreds of British and Americans in the town, few Montego Bay shops opened for business today.

IN MIDNIGHT CONFERENCE

BUDAPEST, Feb. 15 (AP).—A midnight conference called by Regent Nicholas Horthy with Premier Bela Imredi and Count Paul Teleky, Minister of Education, revived reports today that the Premier would resign.

POLICY FOR FREER TRADE

Developing Relations With Countries Friendly to Dominion

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Canada was committed to developing freer trade relations "with the countries with which there can be no question of the disturbance of good political relations," Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today in his speech on the United States-Canada Trade Agreement.

The Prime Minister specified the British Empire, United States, France, the Scandinavian countries, Holland Belgium, but he did not mention Germany, Italy or Japan.

"Canada, then," Mr. Mackenzie King said, "on both political and economic grounds, is committed to a policy of peace and good will, and of freer exchange with other countries which will meet us half way. More especially are we committed to such a policy in dealing with the countries with which there can be no question of the disturbance of good political relations, particularly the countries included within the British Empire, together with the United States.

"Nearly nine-tenths of all our international trade is already conducted with the British Empire and the United States, and a consider-

Drew Elected In Simcoe by Acclamation

MIDLAND, Ont., Feb. 14 (CP).—Colonel George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, was elected by acclamation to the Provincial Legislature for Simcoe East, when nominations for a by-election in the constituency closed at 2 p.m. today.

Colonel Drew filed his nomination papers in person. Less than twenty-five persons were in Midland Town Hall when Returning Officer A. A. Ingram declared nominations closed, ending the slight chance remaining an opponent would appear to contest the February 21 by-election, necessitated by the resignation of William Finlayson.

NEGOTIATIONS CONCLUDED

BERLIN, Feb. 14 (AP). — French-German economic negotiations, carried out in a "spirit of mutual understanding," were concluded today, a communique said. It merely stated negotiations had been in progress in recent weeks dealing with the agreement reached between the two countries on July 10, 1937.

WILL DESTROY FOES OF REICH

Hitler Launches Battleship Before 50,000 Cheering Onlookers

HAMBURG, Feb. 14 (AP).—Chancellor Hitler launched Germany's newest and largest battleship today with the declaration the Nazi party had developed "a spiritual philosophy and organization for destroying from now on and for all future time the enemies of the Reich."

The roar of a twenty-one-gun salute echoed over this festive city and its harbor as the Fuehrer called upon the spirit of the "Iron Chancellor," Otto von Bismarck, to watch over his namesake, the 35,000-ton Bismarck, in her acts of peace and "in the hours of a more difficult performance of duty."

MAKES BRIEF ADDRESS

In a brief address before 50,000 cheering onlookers and dignitaries, Hitler compared the obstacles in the Nazis' path to those of Bismarck—diplomat, statesman and first Chancellor of the German Empire, who lived from 1815 to 1898.

Hitler refefred three times to "church politicians," who, he said, opposed the old Chancellor.

"Princes and dynasties, priest-politicians and social democracy, liberalism, state parliaments and Reichstag parties are no more," Hitler asserted.

Countess Dorothea von Loewenfeld, granddaughter of Bismarck, christened the ship.

FIND NO TRACE OF LOST PLANES

Search Parties Seeking Machines in Alaska and Washington Missing Since Sunday

JUNEAU, Alaska, Feb. 14 (AP).—Three colleagues made fruitless flights today seeking Pilot Alonzo Cope and four passengers, missing since Sunday afternoon when their plane ran into a storm en route here from Ketchikan.

The weather was clearing, and airmen said they believed Cope, experienced northland flyer, will be found to have landed inland safely when the aerial search is extended.

SPOKANE, Feb. 14 (AP).—The third day fruitless search by land and air today failed to disclose the whereabouts of Roy Shreck, Spokane weather pilot, lost in a storm early Sunday.

The pilot reported to the airways communication station he was coming down from 15,000 feet, loaded with ice and being blown eastward by a high wind although his plane was headed west.

EX-CHIEF CENSOR DEAD

Coastal Ship Makes Port After Terrific Battle With Gales

Steam Schooner Puts Into Astoria for Repairs And Supplies—Was Repeatedly Buried in Heavy Seas Off the Coast of Oregon

ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 14 (AP).—Weary from a week's battle with gales which piled up mountainous seas, the crew of the coastwise steam schooner Elna, of San Francisco, put into port here today for water and fuel and repair of damage.

Last week the Elna stood off Coos Bay for a day waiting a chance to discharge general cargo at Marshfield. She finally ran in, but upon leaving she encountered severe storms which held her at Reedsport for nearly a week before she could reach Newport, where she was again delayed.

When she set out again, bound for San Francisco, she hit a southeast gale against which she made not a mile in eighteen hours and with fuel and water running low, Captain Howard L. Paulson decided to make port here. Off the Columbia River mouth, with her decks piled with timber, she was buried in heavy seas, which swept four booms overboard.

Fighting frigid winds, the crew of thirty finally retrieved the booms, whereupon the Elna called for coast guard aid. Then her radio went out, but the U.S.C.G. Onondaga had caught her call and Commander Frank Higbee aided the crippled ship into port, her deckload of lumber scattered and broken but saved.

Children's Aid Here Doing Splendid Work Annual Reports Show

Meeting of Society, Held Yesterday at Spencer's Dining-Room, Hears Comprehensive Statement By the Superintendent, Miss Lyna Mess

"IT is quite impossible to estimate the tremendous contribution of our foster parents. Through their patience, love and devotion, the handicapped children who come to the society are given their chance in life," said Miss Lyna Mess, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, in her report given at the annual luncheon meeting of the society yesterday at Spencer's dining-room.

The report was a comprehensive summary of the society's work, covering not only foster home care of children removed from their own homes, but the investigation of complaints of neglect, service to unmarried mothers, investigation of the background and history of each child offered for adoption and of the prospective adopting parents, co-operation with the juvenile court in the study and treatment of delinquents, and study and improvement of community conditions for the protection of children.

199 CHILDREN

During 1938 the society gave some protective service to 199 children, most of whom were still in their own homes and in charge of their parents. This involved 112 different families, forty-four of which were previously known to the society.

Investigations had brought to light many and various problems affecting child life; homes broken by desertion, separation, and divorce; parents living together without marriage; drunkenness; prostitution and promiscuity; insufficient income, relief, and unemployment; moral and physical neglect and actual cruelty.

Usually neighborliness had come to an end before the Children's Aid received a complaint of neglect; and when complaints came from one parent, they were often followed by counter complaints from the other parent. The society had to strike a mean between the two. Some letters were read from grateful parents who recognized what the society had done in restoring domestic happiness and the happiness of the children.

Except as a last resort, the society did not remove children from their own homes. Unfortunately some families had few assets on which to build anything bettter for the children. It would neither be wise nor possible to remove children from many homes which according to a higher standard of living might seem to possess elements of neglect. Community resources which would bring out the best in these families should be encouraged, for these families were part of the community life and standards.

INCIDENTAL SERVICE

In addition to the foregoing, thirty families had received incidental service, either in response to inquiry by an out-of-town agency, or on matters which could be settled following brief contact.

Foster home care was reviewed. During the year the society had cared for 114 different children removed from their homes, in some cases merely for a temporary period, in others until they became of age. These children were cared for in the society's receiving homes, of which there were two, or in one or other of its eighty-five approved foster homes. Sixty-one of these children (forty-six wards and fifteen non-wards) were in the care of the society at the commencement of the year. Fifty-three new children had been admitted during the year; thirty-one children were discharged, and the year closed with eighty-three children in care of the society. Forty-five of those admitted during the year came for temporary periods, were the society's non-wards, not legally removed from their parents, but in the society's care with the parents' consent for the joint working out of the problem of remaking the behavior pattern of a problem child or a delinquent child, or for the recovery of the family assets.

It had been necessary to make application to the court for the legal removal of eight children. The court, said Miss Mess, was the society's last resort, and even there application was not always granted. An effort was made to avoid the condition that a child might be removed from the legal custody of a parent as the result of malicious gossip.

Service to the unmarried mother had bulked largely in the programme, thirty-eight children of unmarried mothers having been assisted, and ten children of "illegitimate" married mothers.

ADOPTION HOMES

During the year, twenty-six children had been supervised in adoption probation homes. In this connection Miss Mess told about the very careful investigation made of the homes and adopting parents, as well as of the background and history of the child. The society was proud of the standard of its adoption homes, and the great majority of the adopting parents appreciated the value of the investigation required under the terms of the Adoption Act.

In co-operation with the juvenile court, the society's representative had attended thirty-one hearings in connection with twenty-two delinquents. Appreciation was expressed by Miss Mess of the help given by the public, the medical staff, the school teachers, the Women's Auxiliary, and the board of directors.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

About 100 attended yesterday's luncheon, with the president, Dr. O C. Lucas, in the chair. Dr. Lucas stated that although the work had increased during the year, the per capita cost had been kept down to a reasonable figure, approximately sixty-eight cents per diem as compared with Winnipeg's eighty-two cents. It was, in fact, probably the lowest rate in Canada. The jurisdiction of the society had been increased to include Oak Bay, Saanich, and Esquimalt municipalities. A third social worker had been added, also increased equipment, and a second foster home for the reception of infants.

Thanks were expressed especially to Miss Lyna Mess, the members of the board, and the Women's Auxiliary under Mrs. Donald McAdie's chairmanship.

The secretary's report was given by Sydney Child; the Women's Auxiliary report by Mrs. McAdie; and the treasurer's report by Arthur Mallett, whose figures showed income of $18,427 and expenditure of $17,799.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall, who thanked the guest-speaker, William Morrison, of Neighborhood House, Vancouver, referred to the splendid co-operation shown on all sides. Speaking of the eighty-five boys who had passed through the juvenile court during the past two years, he said that only nine of the eighty-five had had to go before the court again, and of these nine, not one was in the industrial school today.

Playing in Drama Festival

MISS HONOR BENSON

WHO will play a leading role in action to Miss Benson, Vera de Brisay, John van Druten's "There's Always Juliet," the Victoria Beaux-Arts entry in the British Columbia regional contest of the Dominion Drama Festival, which is being held at the Empire Theatre here this week, beginning tonight. "There's Always Juliet" is a three-act play, and will be presented tomorrow night, the cast including, in addi- Richard Gatehouse and Robert Baird. It is being directed by Nancy Pritchard and Raymond Guyler. It will be recalled that the Beaux-Arts Society won the Dominion Drama Festival finals at Winnipeg last year, and consequently special interest centres in their entry in the British Columbia regionals this year. — Photograph by Savannah.

TENTATIVE ROUTE GIVEN BY MAYOR

along Cormorant Street to Government Street, south on Government Street to the Legislative Buildings for another brief ceremony, and would then leave by the west entrance.

Turning east on Belleville Street, Their Majesties would proceed to Douglas Street and from there north to Fort Street, east on Fort Street to Linden Avenue, south on Linden Avenue to Rockland Avenue, and from there to Government House at about 12:30 o'clock.

CHILDREN IN PARK

Mayor McGavin stated plans were being made for a Royal visit to city and Up-Island school children massed in Macdonald Park at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of May 30. The Mayor will confer again with Mr. Hart on Thursday.

He pointed out the parade route was tentative, and subject to alteration in several details. He understood Their Majesties would land in the Inner Harbor aboard Ss. Princess Kathleen from Vancouver.

In provincial circles, but remaining unconfirmed, were reiterated reports that a state luncheon to which 300 guests would be invited was being closely considered for the first full day of Their Majesties' stay here. The luncheon, it was being suggested, might be called either by the Provincial Government, or by the Province in association with Government House. Comment was declined on the reports.

Official reticence was attributed in part to the nature of the arrangements themselves, which first must be approved by the Cabinet's sub-committee, and then submitted through Government House to Ottawa for formal approval. So far according to Provincial spokesmen, the committee has not approved of anything, but will meet shortly to consider Victoria and Vancouver proposals in some detail.

TO CHARTER VESSEL

Capt. D Fyvie, secretary of the Saltspring Island Development Association, discussed with Mayor McGavin yesterday a plan to bring 600 island school children to the city during the Royal visit. He hoped that it would be possible to charter a vessel and use it as a floating hotel for the children.

Early this morning Mayor McGavin was scheduled to leave for Nanaimo with his secretary, Aldermen W. H. Davies and T. W. Hawkins, of the City Council celebration committee, and James Macfarlane, C.P.R. general agent. The Mayor will confer with Up-Island mayors and reeves over details surrounding the visit of several thousand children during the presence of Their Majesties.

TWO HURT WHEN STRUCK BY CARS

Pedestrians Receive Slight Injuries In Accidents in City Last Night

Two women pedestrians were injured, neither seriously, when struck by automobiles in the city last night.

Mrs. Winnifred Munroe, North Road, Saanich, received scalp wounds and bruises when she was struck by a car at the intersection of Blanshard and Johnson Street shortly after 7 o'clock. Dr. George Hall attended the injured woman.

At approximately the same time, Mrs. Jobbins, 1248 Fort Street, was struck by an automobile at the corner of Fernwood Road and Fort Street. She was removed to the Jubilee Hospital, where her condition was reported to be not serious.

Three Injured In Blast on Fishing Boat

UCLUELET, Feb. 14.—A gasoline fishing boat blew up Sunday in the harbor, severely burning three Japanese fishermen who were on board. As they started the engine the tank exploded, breaking all the windows in the pilot house and blowing holes in the sides of the boat. Men near by rushed to their aid and tried to put out the fire with fire extinguishers, but were finally forced to scuttle the boat. It was later raised and may be repaired.

The injured men were taken on board the Manhattan, captained by George Hillier, and started for the hospital at Port Alberni. On the way in they met the speed boat owned by Reece Riley, which had been sent for. The men were transferred to the speed boat and taken to the hospital for treatment.

Boom Follows Cut in Tax Rate

RED DEER, Alta., Feb. 14 (CP).—A minor building boom for this town 100 miles north of Calgary was announced today on the heels of the recent council decision to cut the tax rate from 39 to 37 mills, a total reduction of 28 mills since 1925.

The council heard proposals last night calling for constructions worth $100,000, including a new $80,000 hotel.

Red Deer, with a population of about 2,500, has made progress in leaps and bounds in the last eleven years.

BELFAST, Feb. 14 (CP-Havas).—Three terrorist suspects, Michael Walsh, Arthur McGovern and Edward Keenan, were arraigned in police court today on charges of illegal possession of arms and explosives and bound over for examination by the Attorney-General.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Anniversary Of Island Diocese

Metropolitan of British Columbia Here for Commemoration of Coming of First Anglican Bishop Eighty Years Ago

COMMEMORATING the eightieth anniversary of the foundation of the Diocese of British Columbia, an impressive service of thanksgiving and intercession was held at Christ Church Cathedral last evening.

The congregation practically filled the big building, among those present being His Honor the Lieuteant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, who occupied a pew immediately beneath the pulpit. The city was represented by Aldermen John Worthington and Duncan McTavish, and the Provincial Government by the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

The processional was imposing, with clergy, choir, and Cross and standard-bearers, numbering about 100, as it moved from the vestry at the east end of the church toward the door at the west end, and thence, by way of the central aisle, to the chancel. An imposing figure was the Metropolitan, the Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Archbishop of New Westminster, who wore his richly-embroidered cope with mitre. The Bishop of Columbia, Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton; the Dean, Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott, and about forty other clergy of the diocese were also in the processional, the commemoration falling on the eve of the annual meeting of the synod when rectors of Island parishes were in the city.

BISHOP OFFICIATES

Bishop Sexton conducted the service, which opened with the processional hymn, "Thy Hand, O God, Has Guided," and continued with special prayers of thanksgiving in which the congregation joined. The basis of the form of service was that used for the celebration of the fiftieth year of the Diocese of Liverpool, but the prayers embodied several references to the Diocese of British Columbia, its eighty years' history, and the gratitude felt by the people for the many blessings that had been shown. Special reference was also made, in the prayers of "Commemoration of the Departed," to the former bishops of the diocese: George Hills, William Wilcox Perrin, Augustine Scriven and Charles de Veber Schofield.

During the prayers for the King the congregation, still kneeling, sang "God Save Our Gracious King." There were prayers for the blessing of the ministry in the diocese and of general thanksgiving, and the intercessions, including that for the peace of the world.

The special hymns included "Alleluia," "Let Saints on Earth," "City of God, How Broad and Far" and, during the offertory, "Servants of the Great Adventure." The recessional hymn, which closed the service, was "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken."

The choir sang, the congregation standing throughout, the Te Deum Laudamus, with Stanley Bulley at the organ.

METROPOLITAN'S ADDRESS

In his address the Metropolitan, Archbishop de Pencier, specially referred to the splendid ministry of the several bishops who had administered the Diocese of British Columbia since its inauguration eighty years ago.

Maintenance of the Christian faith, the preservation of the inviolability of human personality, loyalty to our democratic institutions—these were the three injunctions given by Premier Baldwin to the great conference of youth held in Albert Hall, London, three years ago. These principles enunciated then were not, however, new and had been demonstrated in action in the late 1850's by the first bishop of this diocese, Bishop George Hills, who was sent out to the then colony to instruct them in Christian faith, loyalty to the institutions in which they had been trained, and preservation of that freedom to which the laws of their country entitled them. For the twenty years of his time here he strove to uphold as well as teach these principles.

Continuing his reference to the several bishops who had administered this diocese, Archbishop de Pencier recalled that the day after his own consecration in 1910 he had come to Victoria to seek advice and counsel from Bishop Perrin, whom he had the following year accompanied to England on business connected with the establishing of the Anglican Theological College in British Columbia, which also had served in maintaining the same three injunctions as laid down by Premier Baldwin to the youth of the Empire last year.

Of the six bishops of the diocese of British Columbia, Archbishop de Pencier said he had personally known five. These he named in turn, beginning with Bishop Perrin, and giving some special tribute to each: Bishop Scriven, Bishop Roper, now Archbishop of Ottawa; Bishop Schofield, at whose elevation he was present; and, finally, Bishop Sexton, the present incumbent of the office. Not many churchmen in Western Canada had such wide experience as the present Bishop of Columbia, who after serving in the sister Dominion of Australia had served with the troops in the war, then, still later, at the very heart of the Empire, before being sent here, where he had had a short period of apprenticeship under the late Bishop Schofield before taking over office.

This diocese had been well guided said the archbishop in conclusion.

DEAN'S ADDRESS

In his sermon the Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, brought out forcefully the idea that the security of the Christian church lay in its emphasis of the fact of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, without which the Kingdom of God would mean nothing.

The dean used as his text Hebrews xii. 27: "The removing of those things that are shaken . . . that those things which cannot be shaken may remain."

The world today, he said, was a world of change and uncertainty. The sense of insecurity cramped the mind, hindered the work and affected the whole life of the church at the present time. The dream of a world made safe for democracy had vanished. The vision vanished as the world groped forward toward it.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, and Dr. Albert Einstein, had both testified, in their different ways, to the same idea. The former in "Man the Unknown," said that there was not a shadow of doubt that mechanical, physical and economic sciences alone were incapable of giving man intelligence, moral discipline, health, nervous equilibrium, security or peace. Einstein, recalling how the German universities, the German press, the great writers who had advocated freedom had all suddenly remained mute when the crucial test came, said that the church alone stood squarely and with courage as a champion of intellectual truth and moral freedom.

The Holy Scriptures, said the preacher, had emerged with renewed value as the result of the testing time through which they had passed during the past thirty years. Certain theories about the Bible might have tottered, but careless critical experiments had been discredited, and the Bible that had been placed in the hands of the church today was a Bible better understood and far more truly interpreted, far more heavily charged with power to challenge the conscience, far more securely based than most thinking men had deemed possible.

OTHER TRYING DAYS

The authors of Holy Scripture had lived in days no more secure than these of today. The early Christians knew the meaning of persecution and fear, and, as the present Bishop of Oxford, Dr. Kirk, had pointed out, life then as now was pitiful and uncertain, with wars and rumors of wars, and conflict, poverty and starvation even more terrible than today. The writers of the Epistles undoubtedly used a good deal of exhortation to rouse those early Christians so that they would live up to the level of that which they professed. But there was no doubt about the basis of the writers' confidence and hope, viz., that the security of the Christian lay in the emphasis of the fact of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, without which the Kingdom of God would go to pieces.

In this reference the Dean took issue with Dr. Stanley Jones, who, in his much-read book, "The Choice Before Us," had suggested that the early Christians ought to have emphasized the Kingdom instead of producing creeds. To this the Dean replied with much force that there was no security today in any kingdom except from the guarantee that Christ was King.

The theme was illustrated throughout by many quotations from the Epistle from which the text was drawn.

Finest That Province Can Produce Will Be Shown at Exposition

Outstanding Displays Will Feature Industrial, Commercial, Scenic and Sporting Life of British Columbia—To Open on Saturday

BRITISH Columbia's most ambitious trade exhibit will be formally opened at the San Francisco Exhibition on Saturday in a room thirty-three by sixty feet, with a twenty-foot high ceiling. There, in the Hall of Western States, surrounded by hand-painted murals and illuminated by hidden, colored lights, will be displayed the best the province has to offer in lumbering, mining, agriculture, fisheries, commercial and residential attractions in friendly competition with the Pacific Northwest. Hon. W. J. Asselstine and Hon. G. S. Wismer, K.C., will be present on the opening day.

An illuminated road map of British Columbia, including the proposed route of the Alaska-Yukon-British Columbia highway; a block of native gold from the Pioneer Mine valued at $30,000; demonstration slabs of dressed woods ten inches thick, fifty inches wide and eighteen feet long; big game heads of mountain sheep, goat and bear; casts of Tyee salmon that alive tipped the scales beyond seventy-five pounds; exhibits from the Empire's largest smelter, at Trail, and much more besides have gone into an outstanding display, E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, explained yesterday.

EXTENSIVE DISPLAY

Reports from provincial officials returning from San Francisco have been uniformly encouraging on the effect of the exhibit and as to the degree of skill with which it has been carried out. The total floor space used is 2,000 feet, with murals on the walls and room for a twenty-foot illuminated map of the province and its road systems. Panels in full grain of spruce, fir, western hemlock, cedar and other softwoods; game and commercial fishes; three dozen transparencies of British Columbia scenes; large-scale photographs of the Legislative Buildings, and other representations touch on every section of life in the province.

W. Lloyd Craig, appointed as commissioner of the exhibit, will remain in charge, assisted by Arthur Shotbolt, W. H. Currie and four officers of the Provincial Police. Tourist publications and illustrated folders will be distributed on the ground. July 1, British Columbia Day, will be the high point in the Province's display, Mr. Rowebottom said.

Vessel Picketed In Protest Over Loading of Iron

BELLINGHAM, Feb. 14 (AP)—Seven ministers, a dozen Chinese and a few members of the Workers' Alliance, formed a picket line at the Municipal Dock here today in protest to the loading of 750 tons of scrap steel on the Japanese steamer Norway Maru. Longshoremen recognized the picket line and did not start work.

The picket line was the outgrowth of a mass meeting called by the Bellingham Ministerial Association yesterday, at which strong protest against the shipment of "war material" to Japan was voiced. Several of the ministers, however, indicated they were not in favor of continuing the picket line, but were in favor of a brief demonstration.

VERIGIN TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

Body of Doukhobor Leader Arrives at Brilliant—Thousands Meet Train

BRILLIANT, B.C., Feb. 14 (CP).—Grieving members of Peter Verigin's family announced tonight that any person, regardless of religion, will be allowed to view the body of the late spiritual leader of Canada's 25,000 Doukhobors during the next three days.

The body of Verigin, who died in hospital at Saskatoon on Saturday, will lie in state in his home for three days before it is buried on Sunday beside that of his father, the late Peter Verigin, original Doukhobor leader in Canada.

Three thousand Doukhobors, some of them coming from colonies in Saskatchewan, met the train which brought the body of the former leader here from Saskatoon today. Other thousands were expected to come to this little Kootenay town to pay their last respects before the burial.

able part of the remainder with the smaller democratic countries of Europe. Indeed, if it had not been for our Imperial and continental relationships, we should have fared much worse than we actually did during the great depression.

"So far as freedom of trade is concerned, we are always willing to add to these countries, other countries whose policies are guided by the same democratic ideas, such as France, the Scandinavian countries, Holland and Belgium. We do not regret that such countries may derive some incidental benefit from the operation of the agreements recently concluded. We feel that if we take rather more of their products, they will take more of ours."

LEONARD COX IS PRESIDENT

Credit Granters' Association Elects Board of Directors For Year

At its annual meeting, held yesterday in Spencer's dining-room, the Credit Granters' Association elected Leonard W. Cox president for the ensuing year. From the list of nominations, nine were selected as directors, as follows: L. W. Cox, O. M. Prentice, W. J. Fletcher, G. A. A. Hebden, V. A. Gill, G. Robinson, L. Butler, R. M. Lochhead and E. N. Gyles. Meeting immediately following the luncheon session, the directors named Mr. Cox as president.

In retiring from office, L. E. Evenden, who had been president for the past year, expressed his thanks to the members for the excellent support accorded him. The succes of the year had been largely due to the generous way in which the association had co-operated.

On motion of Mr. Lochhead and Mr. Cox, the retiring president was accorded the thanks of the association for his excellent services.

REPORTS ON WORK

Annual reports from various committees were presented by L. W. Cox for the programme body; W. J. Fletcher for the bureau committee; G. W. Robinson for the membership committee; V. A. Gill and R. M. Lochhead for the attendance committee; E. P. Johnston for the auditors, and O. M. Prentice for the educational committee.

With respect to the latter work, the good done by the courses that were taken by the men and the ladies classes was stressed by Mr. Prentice. Examinations covering the course had been taken, and the results would soon be forthcoming from headquarters. Mr. Evenden paid a compliment to the good work done in this respect.

While the scrutineers, Messrs. Fletcher and Cox, were counting the ballots, the president referred to the good record made during the past year. There had been eighteen new members and 2,500 more reports were received during the season than in the year preceding. The secretary, Harry B. Dawson, was praised for his efficient work throughout the year.

The announcement was made that there would be a national convention held in San Francisco during the fair there. This was set for June 20-23 and all were urged to attend.

PRAISES NEW TRADE AGREEMENT WITH U.S.

but secured Canada's markets for the future as well. Had Canada not co-operated this country might have been faced with termination of both the former agreement with the United States and the agreement with the United Kingdom. The former expired this year, the latter next.

AGREEMENTS INSEPARABLE

By surrendering some of the preferences accorded Canada under the agreement with the United Kingdom his Government had made possible the agreement between the United States and the United Kingdom. The two agreements were inseparable.

"A Canadian Government," he said, "was the first to bring into effect with the great Republic to the South a trade agreement which meant a beginning on new and better lines towards furthering good relations between nations."

As he moved adjournment of the debate until Friday, Hon. Dr. Robert Manion, Conservative leader suggested Mr Mackenzie King's argument about the international significance of the treaty was fanciful. There had not for years been any suggestion of difficulty between Canada and the United States or between Great Britain and United States.

IN LINE WITH POLICY

The treaty, said the Prime Minister, went a long way towards fulfilling the policy laid down by the Liberal Party at the last general election. Within the term of one Parliament the Government had effected a complete revision of the Canadian tariff structure, through its trade agreements. The downward revisions had been greater than made in the lifetime of any previous Parliament.

Tariff rates under the British preference schedules were now lower than they had ever been and the rates against the United States were lower than when the Liberals left office in 1930.

The former Conservative administration headed by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett might have made the agreement with the United States had it not been for differences of opinion within its ranks. When Dr Manion said he could not remember any differences Mr. Mackenzie King said if they had not differed they had at least made a tacit agreement no treaty was to be made until after the 1935 election.

PROTECTIONIST WING

Had the Conservatives won the 1935 election, he argued, they would not have made the treaty because the same differences would have continued and the protectionist wing of the Conservative party would have controlled the Government.

The Liberal Opposition had criticized the 1932 trade agreements because they gave preferences to the Empire by raising duties against other countries. "That was an entirely new plan of raising tariffs under the guise of granting a preference. The British Preference owes its existence to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who first granted it in 1896 by lowering tariffs," Mr. Mackenzie King said.

Since the new treaty was signed an attempt had been made to use it to create sectional differences. The great advantages of the agreement to Canada as a whole would far outweigh any disadvantages which might come to particular areas, he stated.

Dr. Manion had described a Government press release at the time the treaty was signed as "ballyhoo and propaganda."

TO TABLE STATEMENT

The Government would have been open to criticism if it had not made a statement and the press release contained facts. Mr. Mackenzie King said he would lay copies on the table of the House for all members and would challenge anyone to prove it was not a statement of fact.

In addition to direct benefits accruing to Canada from concessions in the Canadian treaty by virtue of the most favored nation arrangement, Canada received the benefit of all the concessions given by the United States in its agreement with the United Kingdom.

Dr. Manion said the Prime Minister had made a "good political stump speech." He did not propose to "waste the time of the House" in answering political arguments but would confine his later comments to the merits of the trade agreement.

MANION PUZZLED

"I was puzzled to understand how the Prime Minister can get so worked up over the peace that has been reached, through this agreement, with the United States," Dr Manion said. He was sure people had heard speakers rejoicing over the 100 years of peace and the 3,000 miles of undefended border until they were "sick" of it much as they appreciated the fact.

"I cannot recall any difficulties between Canada and the United States since 1812." Dr Manion said. "I don't want to puncture the bubble tthe Prime Minister has blown up, but at the same time I cannot see why we should get so worked up over peace-promoting aspects of the agreement."

Suggests Means To Stem Tide of Nazi Penetration

Complete co-operation between the democracies, supported by closer trade relations, is seen as the only effective barrier to Hitler's penetration into Southeastern Europe, by Dr. Michael Heilpern, Geneva, Polish economist, who paid a brief visit to Victoria yesterday to address a private meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs on Poland's problems and their bearing on the growing crisis in Europe.

Economically, the totalitarian states had even more to gain from co-operation than the democracies, because the former had not the means of economic development within their own boundaries, Dr. Heilpern said. He suggested that the difficulties experienced by the totalitarian powers in securing supplies of raw materials should be used to impress upon them the fact that their present attitude will bring trouble to themselves.

Exposed to indefinite but nevertheless real dangers, the Polish people desired to preserve national neutrality and remain free from all entanglements, Dr. Heilpern declared. Democracy was far from being lost in Poland, he claimed.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ELECTED

Children's Aid at Annual Meeting Accepts Nominating Committee's Report

Eight new members were elected to the board of the Children's Aid Society yesterday, with the adoption of the nominating committee's report when read at the annual meeting held at Spencer's dining-room.

The eight new members, elected for a two-year term, are as follows: Mrs. Dora J. C. Crane, Dr. Richard Felton, Mrs H. J. Hartnell, Miss Estelle J. Herbert, Dr. O. C. Lucas, A. E. Mallett, John R. Scoby and E. G. Snowden.

The following members remain on the board for another year: Mrs. Florence Mutrie, H. Dunsford, Dr J. L. Murray Anderson, Alex Peden, H. W. Paterson, Sydney Child and H. S. Hurn.

REGENERATING SLUM DISTRICT

William Morrison, of Neighborhood House, Vancouver, Addresses Children's Aid

The story of a great work of reclamation of underprivileged families in one of the youngest slum areas of Canada, was told by William Morrison, director of the Alexandra Neighborhood House, Vancouver, in an inspiring address at the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society yesterday at Spencer's dining-room.

Opened only four and a half months ago, Neighborhood House was set up, after a survey of an area six blocks square, on a 150-family budget basis. But this was a gross underestimate, as subsequent experience proved, as during the first eleven weeks 18,000 men, women and children had attended the classes and evening gatherings, and the staff had grown from being a mere two (Mr. Morrison and the janitor), to a crew of 125 volunteer helpers. There were now thirty-three activities, embracing such subjects as dancing, tap-dancing, gymnasium, boxing, folk-dancing, tumbling, handicrafts, singing, etc.

FIRST SURVEY

The first Neighborhood or Settlement House to open in Western Canada, this in Vancouver, began its survey with hesitation. But from the very first the response was remarkable. From the six-block square area 1,653 families were registered, 500 being of the indigent class, many of them unemployable, with low living standards, and overcrowding conditions general—a typical district such as found in all large cities.

Study of existing social agencies also had to be made, for double purpose of avoiding overlapping and at the same time being able to get their co-operation. In the very first day, the year's quota registered. Volunteer helpers were rapidly mustered as the numbers poured in, the idea being to have hostesses on hand to welcome the people as they arrived and find out what they wanted to take up in the way of group activities. In the intervening months, 130 separate activities had been developed in response to the wishes of the Neighborhood House users themselves.

KINDERGARTEN WORK

Included in the centre's activities was a pre-school programme. Starting with seventeen children they now had ninety in this department, with six voluntary kindergarten teachers.

Following the policy of having no class distinctions, no fees, and of being non-sectarian, the centre considered it just as important to include others than the distinctly under-privileged of the neighborhood in its activities, as each group should understand the other, each benefit by sharing in and sympathizing with the experiences of the other. It all helped for good, neighborly spirit. Some mothers had not been out of their homes for two or three years, dreading the comments of neighbors. Now they were attending the Neighborhood House gatherings, doing square dances, heels-and-toes, and taking part in other activities with great enjoyment.

HEALTH SERVICES

Mr Morrison told something about the health services, the training of mothers and fathers in domestic and child-training problems such as the wise disciplining of their children. "We look on all the people as members of a family, we try to get the entire family picture. If the child's home is not as it should be we work to make it what it should be," said the director.

"Our big job is to help these people to find themselves," said Mr Morrison in concluding his story with a description of the many groups such as Legionnaires, Pathfinders, Vulturos, Spartans and so on into which the boys and girls were absorbed. One boy who boasted that he was the neighborhood bully was now an active member of the Legionnaires. The monitor system had been adopted in order to develop good leadership and followership principles.

REVOLVER CONTEST

Suggests Outdoor Entertainments Be Given This Summer

Tourist Trade Group of Chamber of Commerce Broaches Plan for Enjoyment of Tourists—No Holiday Favored During Royal Visit

PROPOSAL of an outdoor entertainment centre where programmes of plays, concerts and choirs, etc., would be staged in the interests of inducing visitors to remain longer in Victoria, was broached at the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday in a letter from the Tourist Trade section of the organization.

The group, under the chairmanship of Frank Waring, sought endorsement by the parent body of a letter to the city council asking that the city-owned property on the southwest corner of Belleville and Douglas Streets, diagonally across from the Crystal Garden, be loaned for an indefinite period for the promotion of the scheme.

Mr. Waring pointed out that a shell and seating accommodations would be built, and added that he believed musical and dramatic groups would freely assist with their services. Mr. Waring thought some special entertainment along these lines would serve as an inducement to tourists to remain here longer, stating there was a loss to local merchants because visitors go up the Island after a short stay here.

REFERRED BACK

The directors referred the suggestion back to the tourist trade section, asking them to present more details as to price of construction and maintenance, etc.

Duncan MacBride, chairman, reported for the committee of the chamber and city council representatives, on the housing problem for visitors during the visit of the King and Queen. He said about fifty applications had been received from citizens listing their homes for accommodation purposes. Mr. MacBride also reported on correspondence he had had with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for Victoria. He said the air mail service linking Victoria with the East would commence on March 1.

NO HOLIDAY

A report was adopted from the retail merchants' section suggesting that no legal holiday be declared in connection with the royal visit, but that stores close for two hours in the afternoon so as to give the employees a chance to witness the procession. The recommendation will now be forwarded to the City Council and Provincial Government. G. E. MacDonald, chairman of the section, pointed out many visitors would be in the city on that date, and it was in the best interests of the retailers to remain open.

Another report from the same section was adopted, which stated that 143 letters had been sent to merchants canvassing their opinions on whether three statutory holidays should be observed on Mondays instead of their regular date. The report continued that sixty-eight replies in the affirmative had been received, while only five in the negative were registered.

STAMP RIVER AREA

The board endorsed a recommendation from the Port Alberni and District Board of Trade that the Provincial Government be acquainted with the necessity of preserving ninety-three acres in the Stamp River district as a park area. The board will communicate with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, in this regard.

A communication from the South Saanich Farmers' Institute asked the support of the chamber in suggesting construction by the Provincial Government of a road through the Indian Reservation at Sidney to connect with the Marine Drive. The directors considered it was a matter for the Federal Government. A communication from the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People was received and filed. It asked support of a resolution declaring an embargo on all Canadian products to Japan, that could be used as war materials.

Skylarks in Air Above Fields of Lansdowne Road

VICTORIA'S famous skylarks are back in the air again. Mrs. F. Chappell, of 1753 Sixth Street, told The Colonist yesterday that each morning so far this week she had heard the skylarks singing over Lansdowne field and the vicinity, at the northerly limits of the city. The birds have been heard about 10 o'clock each morning, and are hovering low.

SHEPARD LINE SHIP AT MANZANILLO WITH FIRE IN HER CARGO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14 (AP).—The Marine Exchange reported the steamer Sagebrush, en route from New York to San Francisco, put in today at Manzanillo with its cargo afire. The vessel is owned by the Shepard Line.

D. M. Dysart, Pacific Coast manager for the Shepard Line, said the blaze was "a small one, already extinguished."

The ship reached Manzanillo without difficulty, he said. She was carrying general cargo.

SASKATCHEWAN DAIRY BUSINESS STRONGER

REGINA, Feb. 14 (CP).—Increased stability in the dairy business in Saskatchewan is noted in the annual report of the Provincial Milk Control Board tabled in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. J. G. Taggart, Minister of Agriculture. After slumping consumption in the early months of last year, caused by increased prices, considerable recovery in the volume of purchases was seen in the closing stages of 1938.

PRINCE GEORGE TO GET NEW ICE RINK

PRINCE GEORGE, Feb. 14 (CP).—Prince George City Council last night decided to submit a by-law to ratepayers, empowering the city to guarantee interest on $12,000 worth of bonds to construct a covered rink here with a clear skating surface eighty feet by 180 feet.

A delegation representing hockey and skating organizations of the city presented the petition to aldermen stating the site has been acquired and cement footings for the foundation already are in place.

It is proposed to have the new rink ready for use next Fall.

A THIEF IN COURT

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—Thieves don't enter the Provincial Courthouse here only when they are on trial. City police said today a sneak thief entered the barristers' room in the courthouse on Monday and walked off with an overcoat belonging to George B. Housser.

COMBAT RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and excess uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Plan to help prevent rheumatism by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite kidney remedy. (A)

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

A contributor to The London Spectator, who has lately been a resident in Germany, draws a picture of the people in that country, as living uneasily enough under the rule of Herr Hitler, but without much immediate prospect of changing the regime. The several political and economic factors in the case are set forth at some length, but may be briefly summarized.

In the first place, it is asserted that the German people want peace. They do not stand solidly behind their leaders. The pressure exerted upon them by Nazi officials produces a variety of reactions. There was a certain amount of enthusiasm for Nazi principles a year or two ago, but this has latterly given place to cynical apathy, or to irritation that often changes to indignation, and even to hatred. The German people have long been accustomed to a certain measure of bureaucratic regulation. It does not follow, however, that they are prepared to submit, patiently and without protest, to the excessive doses of official control that have been forced upon them. They dislike exceedingly the rationing here and the shortage there, the scarcity of eggs and fats, the inferior quality of the flour and meat, the burden of longer working hours under a low, unchanging wage scale, and, generally speaking, excessive bureaucratic control. Formerly the people were reticent, but this reticence is now giving place to complaints, which are general and surprisingly loud. In short, the economic position of Germany gives its Government much uneasiness.

German propaganda claims that the diplomatic achievements of Herr Hitler were ardently desired by the German people and that they produced delirious enthusiasm and gratitude, but it is confidently asserted by this observer that these achievements were greeted with short-lived satisfaction or listless apathy, and that the rejoicings that followed Munich were due, not to triumph in an expanding empire, but to relief at the preservation of peace.

Are fresh foreign adventures likely to be undertaken by the German leaders? It is said that one of the reasons why Germany may embark on new adventures is not that there are too many Nazis, but that there are not enough. Nazism has not penetrated all ranks in Germany. The Nazis may cherish the hope that another successful "coup" would add to the numbers and prestige of their party. That party constitutes a powerful attraction for youths under twenty-five. Discontented Germans beyond that age are not so easily reduced to automatic obedience. Unsatisfactory economic conditions may seem to Germany's rulers to call for desperate remedies. They might be tempted to try the effect of a foreign war to consolidate opinion behind the Government. The Nazis are well aware of the true state of feeling, but they have efficient means of dealing with resistance on the home front, and have shown that they can be ruthless on occasion. Nevertheless, the commentator's last word is that the German people would enter with intense reluctance upon any war in which they were likely to meet with powerful opposition, and that the consequences of such reluctance would be serious. Dictators have to take chances, no doubt, and perhaps longer chances than other rulers, but there are limits to the hardihood even of a dictator.

FOOD RESERVES FOR GREAT BRITAIN

The world glut in wheat is the reason for a suggestion by Sir Arthur Salter, of All Souls College, Oxford, that Great Britain should build up a reserve of the commodity. He says that the reduction in British merchant tonnage and personnel, and the new menace to shipping from the air, "must mean that our danger of food shortage in a long struggle, which brought us near disaster at one period in the last war, would this time be even more serious." He regards increased production at home as insufficient, and considers the country should secure additional food reserves of various suitable kinds, equivalent in food value to a year's consumption of wheat for an annual cost of about $25,000,000, including both interest on the initial capital expenditure of about $350,000,000, and the cost of handling, etc. Such a food reserve would relieve the strain on the Navy in time of war, "and would substantially assure us against the national danger which is second only in importance to that of the vulnerability of our great towns to air attack."

Sir Arthur Salter sees in the present wheat situation the opportunity to secure at once a large reserve. He says: "The situation with which the World Economic Conference of 1933 was faced has recurred. We can all in retrospect see that if we had then laid in large stocks we should—(a) Have contributed in the most useful possible way to the world problem of a wheat surplus; (b) made an extremely good bargain, in view of the prices of the time and in later years; and (c) secured a war provision of the utmost value very cheaply. Are we once more merely to encourage the expensive and wasteful policy of restricting the wheat production and exports of countries which have a surplus—and then, later, find ourselves compelled, at much greater cost and in much more difficult circumstances, to buy wheat we could now obtain so much more cheaply and at a time when it will have the greatest value in increased security?"

PALESTINE'S FUTURE

In the Palestine Conference now in progress in London there is the conflict of two rights. It has been complicated by the persecution of the Jews in Germany and the necessity of finding new homes for those forced to leave that country. Dr. Weizmann, the Zionist leader, strongly deprecates any cessation of Jewish immigration to Palestine. He believes, indeed, that the policy in this respect should be enlarged, because more Jews are seeking new homes. On the other hand, although the manner of expressing it is regrettable, the Arabs have a strong case against unrestricted Jewish immigration. They were not consulted when Great Britain took over the mandate in Palestine.

Probably the outcome of the present conference will be the creation of a federation of states covering both Syria and Palestine, of which the Jewish part of Palestine and Christian Lebanon would be autonomous members. The suggestion has been made that Palestine should be divided into two provinces, with autonomous powers being conferred on the Jews in one and on the Arabs in the other, with each having the right of restricting or promoting immigration. It is unlikely that the Arab demands for complete control can be met. Any settlement will be a matter of compromise, and this may ultimately be made easier of accomplishment when accompanied by what The Times, of London, calls "an approach towards the solution of the larger Syro-Palestinian problem, which cannot safely be neglected, least of all by the Arabs, in the present state of the world."

IN OTHER WORLDS

Science should be accurate and know, and it does in a great many instances, but astronomy, to some extent at least, remains a matter of speculation. Such an authority as Dr. H. Spencer Jones, the Astronomer Royal, is by no means assured of the possibility of life on other planets. He says: "It seems that Mars is a planet where life may be on the verge of becoming extinct, and that Venus is a planet on which life may be on the verge of coming into existence. Elsewhere there is no life of any sort." He sees everything weighted against the possibility of life in any planetary system, because "If the planet is too near its parent sun, it will be too hot for life to exist; if it is too far away, it will be too cold. If it is much smaller than the earth, it cannot retain any atmosphere. If it is much larger, it will have retained too much atmosphere, for when hydrogen cannot escape the formation of the poisonous gases, ammonia and marsh gas, appear to be almost inevitable."

These speculations are, of course, on the basis that what is known of life is of the quality to be found on this earth. That is the only premise known to man on which an argument about life elsewhere may be based. It is a contracted premise where there are one hundred million separate universes accessible to observation, and there is no knowledge of how many more there may be outside of human ken. This is admitted by the Astronomer Royal when he says: "If the proportion of planets on which life can exist is not more than one in a million—and our survey of the solar system suggests that this is a considerable underestimate—the total number of planets where conditions are suitable for life must be considerable. So it seems probable that there are other worlds where life exists, though that life may be entirely different from any form of life with which we are familiar."

MEMORIES

Never ask to journey back
Down a childhood road you knew
Long ago when life was young
And early Dreams were over you.

Never lift the kindly veil
Close-dividing then and now;
One more glimpse may strip the gleam,
Tear the blosoms from the bough.

One more glimpse—the crumbling house,
Strangeness gathered thick as gloom
Keep the laughter in your heart;
Never risk the empty room!

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

So you have lost your ward system, as was predicted. You lost it without one shot fired in its defence in the Legislature. You lost it before the legislative committee on electoral law had been summoned into session. You lost it in spite of the decision of that committee to take a further year to consider concrete changes in the method of balloting. You lost it by order-in-council, applying first in Vancouver and now in Victoria. I could point to the column in which you were warned. But, as a public, you said nothing; so everyone is entitled to take it you agreed to lose your ward system. See, now, what follows: At the next provincial election you will vote on the Federal plan of balloting. There are some who will cheer for that. There are some who say that it is quite all right for a government to rent one hundred premises, one every few blocks in every neighborhood, on the eve of an election in which the same administration is seeking to be returned. There are those who point to the facility of voting in your own block, or perhaps in the next block. There are some who say that deputy returning officers, poll clerks, stationery and other indispensables at an election will be no more costly under the new plan. Concede all, and that is a material concession if there ever was one, and still look at what is happening to you, with your consent.

When 8,000 people voted at a ward hall,none was specially aware how each one would vote. Most people were in fact virtual strangers. Under the vote-in-your-own-block plan, you will know everybody, and, if you are ordinarily astute and neighborly, you will know how they vote. But you have no right to know how they vote. The ballot is supposed to be secret. Yet, as neighbors, you will be unable to avoid knowing just how each one in your block will view the election; precisely how they will inevitably mark their ballots. Someone will ask: What does it matter? Look a little further ahead. Suppose that in polling division Q123, for instance, the administration's candidate, Mr. X., goes down to defeat by two ballots. An administration behind Mr. X would be annoyed with that area and its 280 voters. Through supporters on Q123 lists, an administration would know, moreover, who to be annoyed with; their names, their addresses and their politics. Has any administration a right to that knowledge?

Hypothetical cases do not mean much. For the one cited, others could invent a hundred proving something else again. Let us look, dispassionately, at the record. Within recent years an entire ship's company has been polled on the same day at the same advance balloting in a Federal poll. In one of those advance polls an entire ship's company voted the same way; and it could be stated which way. There was no secrecy to those ballots. On other occasions, until quite recently members of the permanent garrison forces were polled in the same place and the results of that poll in due course published. There was no secrecy about those ballots. Some of that has been changed; and there are assurances that it will not happen again. How much of a gain is that, if by splitting up the electorate in lots of between 200 and 300 everyone is going to know how everyone else votes. For that is the plan you have acquiesced in; that is the plan that is now being carried out. I hope you will like it—you permitted it to happen, by order-in-council.

Between us, you have permitted a good deal to happen by order-in-council that would never have passed through the checks and balances of open discussion in Parliament. To be impersonal about it you have allowed administration after administration to do much as they liked, and to tell you about it afterwards—sometimes a long time afterwards. You have allowed a generation of elected public servants to grow up secure in the belief that the public need not be told anything whatever about their own business, save at the discretion of an administration. An administration—every administration—likes to talk about its successes; but keeps silent about the rest of the business. You have heard much about cash surpluses, recurrent surpluses, surpluses in the balance sheet, and in some other peculiar places; but you are being taxed to maintain actual deficits. Perhaps it is time you began to take some interest in your own business; in your share of the common run of public business.

Silence gives a wholesale form of consent. As a people, you have been assenting in a wholesale kind of way to remedies that do not remedy, to advances which advance nothing, to improvements that fail to improve. If you do it through parliament and by the discussion route there can be no valid objection. If you let it be done by order-in-council and without reference to parliament, you may find it too late to object. Perhaps, though, you planned to lose your ward system. Maybe you thought the secrecy of the ballot was a dangerous thing. Or perhaps—this column is loath to suggest it—you did not think about the matter at all. If that last be true, you would have company both in and out of parliament. You see the parliamentary system works only as long as you work at it.

TRADES COUNCIL TO MEET

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council will meet tonight in the Labor Hall at 8 o'clock. A meeting of the executive committee will be held at 7 o'clock, to prepare reports for the regular meeting

WANT NATIONAL CANADIAN FLAG

Junior Chamber of Commerce Endorses Proposal Of Native Sons

The Junior Chamber of Commerce decided on Monday night to endorse the plan of the Native Sons of Canada, Victoria Assembly No. 1, to canvass Federal and Provincial Parliament members with a view to securing their support in favor of a national flag for Canada. Assemblies throughout the Dominion are communicating with various organizations seeking their co-operation in the move.

W. C. Mearns presented the financial statement on the Christmas Home Lighting Contest, which showed a net balance of $32.07, to be earmarked for this year's contest. Total receipts were $246.52, and expenditures, $214.07.

George Beck was named chairman of the paint-up, clean-up committee, which will make an attempt to brighten up the city for the visit of the King and Queen.

COMMITTEE FORMED

A letter was read from Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, thanking the chamber for offering its help with regard to the Royal visit and advising them the offer had been placed before the Government. Conway Parrott, president, announced a committee has been formed for this purpose.

T. E. Watkins was named chairman of a committee to confer with the proper authorities on the suggestion of having four or five special air-mail boxes placed at strategic points in the downtown area. Other members are D. Dockditt and J. Monteith. The aviation committee will meet Wednesday afternoon to discuss plans for an inauguration ceremony of the air-mail service between here and Vancouver. Their proposal will be presented to the civic aviation committee.

Welsh Society to Celebrate Event

The Welsh Society will hold its annual commemoration of St. David's Day. Arrangements were drawn up at a meeting of the society's executive committee, when it was decided that the celebration would be in the form of a banquet and concert on Tuesday, February 28, the eve of St. David's Day, in Spencer's dining-room. All Welsh people and their friends will be welcomed, and are asked to reserve the night. Tickets are available from any member of the committee, or from the secretary, Mrs. R. T. Williams, E 2276.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Sir,—In your every Sunday edition you have an editorial on some aspect of Christian doctrine and practice. These articles make interesting and profitable reading. The one in this week's issue, on the Golden Rule, is no exception.

There is a sentence in the article upon which I feel prompted to comment. You say "It (the Golden Rule) is more honored in the breach than in the observance, and this disobedience is at the root of most of the world's troubles."

Now the summary of the Ten Commandments is "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." That the Golden Rule stresses only the final clause of that summary is the secret of the weakness to which your article calls attention. "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you" is not likely to be practised where there is not the love of God. Where there is no regard for God there is not much likelihood of an unselfish regard for one's neighbor. The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom, and the fear of God should suggest the study of the Word of God.

There is a great deal of unintelligent talk about Christianity. Christianity is a revealed religion, and the revelation of its is contained in the New Testament; not in any isolated verse but in the whole record of the Sacrifice on Calvary of the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world. Christ's death was an atoning death, and it is those who are resting in the protection of that substitutionary death who are Christians in the New Testament sense of the term. Christians, of course, ought to practise the Golden Rule; but it is not the practice of the Golden Rule that makes them Christians.

Taking Undue Credit

In The New York Sunday News of February 12 the following item appeared: "Vancouver—A unique experiment in naval defence is underway here at Esquimalt naval base. A fisherman's navy is receiving twenty-six days' instruction—" Unless Esquimalt has been moved overnight, we understand it is still adjacent to Victoria. We also believe the experiment is far from unique. Fishermen were enrolled in the Royal Naval Reserve during the war, and nobody thought anything about it . . . In New York city, 129,000 school children between the ages of six and eighteen years will be given weekly instruction in politeness . . . According to a recent finding of the National Safety Council, more than half the pedestrian traffic deaths are due in some measure to a fault of the pedestrian himself. The council urged every pedestrian to acquaint himself or herself with traffic laws . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, is a man who sings in his bathtub. But he takes the ashes out of the basement and chops wood in silence.—G.B.

Congratulations, Sooke

Paid our first visit to the Sooke Community Hall Monday evening and was more than surprised to see such a splendid building. The basketball floor, slightly larger than those in Victoria, and the general building is a tribute to the splendid community spirit and work of the residents of the district . . . We have been "tagged" many times, given rain checks at many ball games, but Monday evening was the first time we ever had to be "stamped," and with a rubber stamp. A friendly gentleman at the door, who has the job of checking the attendance, politely stamps a mark on the hand of "non-paying" guests. When they re-enter they must show their "mark." Certainly a novel idea . . . We are informed that more than $10,000 has been expended on the hall at Sooke. Certainly a true expression of community spirit. We doff out hat to the splendid residents of Sooke for their vision and enterprise. There's is a splendid job well done.—S.T.

Will Operate Here

The arrival in Victoria of Victor R. Sutherland to open an office for the contracting firm of Carter-Halls-Aldinger Co., Ltd., conveys the idea that this city is becoming more important from the standpoint of construction work. The firm has long been in the field here and elsewhere in the lines of business represented by it across Canada. Now Victoria is felt to be of sufficient importance, from the company's standpoint, to open a local office here.—O.H.N.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that the longest sports waiting list in the world is that of the Marylebone Cricket Club in England? It's something like 100,000 and the normal waiting period is anything up to thirty-five years. Members being admitted at present were candidates as far back as 1911 . . . Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins, states that Eddie Shore is good for at least another four years. Talking about hockey, if the New York Rangers fail to overtake the fast traveling Bruins it will mean a difference of about $200 to each member of the Blueshirts . . . Like Victoria, the Vancouver Rugby Union isn't satisfied with its "rep" squad and made some drastic changes at the last meeting. Some former stars were dropped altogether and younger men put in their places. Others were switched about for the next cup match with Varsity . . . Don Budge and Elly Vines are still barnstorming around the country on their tennis tour. By the way, Don is leading by seven matches, the last check up being seventeen for the red-head and ten for the veteran Vines . . . "Red" Martin, former member of the Blue Ribbons and Dominoes and last year with the touring House of David cagers, has been reinstated as an amateur, I am told. He may play for the Senators against the Dominoes in the city league play-offs.—J.D.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where hi-nins occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock, add 19.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

COWICHAN HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

DUNCAN, Feb. 14.—The annual meeting of the Cowichan Hospital Association held last night at the I.O.O.F. Hall drew an attendance of about thirty people. E. W. Neel, president of the association, was in the chair. The annual balance sheet was presented, showing expenditures $11.58 in excess of receipts during the year.

A full report of the hospitalization scheme was given. Seven hundred and fifty applications for contracts had been received to date. It was explained that contracts paid up to the date of the meeting would entitle the holders to benefits from the beginning of April. Dr. Bissett, who attended the meeting, spoke in favor of the scheme.

Retiring directors who were re-elected at last night's meeting were E. W. Neel, K. F. Duncan, W. Prest, R. O. Tait and Mrs. John Gibb. Resignations were received from H. L. Whittaker, L. F. Solly and Mrs. Neil McIver. Their places will be filled by Winter Cook, Youbou; Colonel Boyd, Lake Cowichan, and Fred Wilson, of Rounds.

Private Meeting On Water Appeal Held at Oak Bay

Members of the City Council water board held a closed session at Oak Bay on Monday afternoon with several members of the Oak Bay Council to discuss questions arising out of the city's plan to appeal a recent Supreme Court decision on the water rate question.

In the Supreme Court at Vancouver on January 13, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald dismissed an action of the city to recover water rates from Oak Bay, and ruled that the municipality was to be supplied with water by the city at prices fixed by the Provincial comptroller of water rights. The city recently decided to appeal the decision.

Oak Bay suggested the conference yesterday in an attempt to agree upon a water rate satisfactory to both parties. Since instructions to the city solicitor to appeal the case were not withdrawn at a City Council meeting last night, it is assumed that no progress was made.

Both Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the water board, declined to comment on the conference.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

Mrs. Emily Neiss received a broken left thumb, cuts on her face and a bruised hip about 8.30 Monday night when she was struck by a car said by police to have been driven by David A. Muir, Forbes Street. The accident occurred on Fernwood Road near Balmoral Road. Mrs. Neiss was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. N. Penman, 2635 Blackwood Street, where she was attended by Dr. F. M. Bryan.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of February 15, 1889)

A Royal Visit—It is reported that a member of the royal family will visit Canada next Summer. The Duke of Edinburgh the son of Her Majesty, is suggested as likely to be the visitor, but the Prince of Wales favors sending his eldest son. The present heir apparent is said to have visited Canada under similar circumstances in 1861, and his triumphal tour of Canada is regarded as likely to be no less heartier one than the proposed reception to the next royal visitor.

Board of Trade—The president and council of the Vancouver Board of Trade have issued invitations for their first annual banquet, which is to take place at the Hotel Vancouver on Tuesday, March 5. Invitations have been sent to the Lieutenant-Governor, the members of the Provincial Ministry and the Legislature, the Chief Justice, the mayors of the various cities and the reeves of the municipalities, the presidents of the Boards of Trade of Victoria and Westminster, the senators and members of the House of Commons from British Columbia and many other prominent persons.

Gordon Head—Thirty-eight acres changed hands here a few days ago at a good figure. The purchaser, Mr. Dean, will have a house put up at once. Some other parties are about starting a brickyard in the same locality.

Stocks in Slow Move Backward On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—Stocks shifted slightly to the rear in today's market, but the move was at such a slow rate that financial quarters were not particularly disheartened.

Declines of small fractions were in the majority at the close, with a few set-backs of 1 to 2 or so. Extreme losses were reduced in many cases.

Transfers for the five hours amounted to only 418,390 shares, the lightest turnover for a full session since September 6, last year. The volume compared with 444,538 last Friday. The Associated Press average of sixty issues was off .1 of a point at 50.2.

Despite continuance of a fairly good brand of business news, traders came back from their lengthy holiday with a notable lack of buying ardor. Brokers thought international affairs again were a market handicap.

A lively demand for local traction issues was the main prop for a droopy bond market today.

United States treasuries, with few exceptions, gained 1-32 to 3-32 point. Latin American issues continued the upward trend.

STOCKS DRIFT IN MONTREAL MART

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP).—Stocks drifted into lower territory in light dealings on Montreal Exchange today.

Papers and metals led the downward movement with St. Lawrence Paper preferred losing 3 to 33. St. Lawrence Corporation, common and preferred, and Price Brothers were narrowly lower. Consolidated Smelters was off 1-2 at 54 1-2, while Nickel and Noranda closed 1-4 lower.

C.P.R. eased 1-2 to 4 7-8 and Steel of Canada was off a similar amount at 4 7-8.

Shawinigan declined 1-2 to 20 1-4, while Montreal Power was down 1-4. Oils bucked the trend. International Petroleum advanced 1-4 to 26 5-8, and Imperial Oil ended up 1-8 at 16 3-4.

SMALL GAINS IN WHEAT FUTURES

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP).—Wheat futures prices scored small gains on Winnipeg market today, influenced by higher values at Liverpool and an export business from the Pacific Coast in Canadian wheat estimated at 400,000 bushels.

Final quotations were 3-8 to 5-8 cent higher, with May at 62 1-2, July 63 1-4 and October 63 3-4 cents. Liverpool advanced 5-8 to 3-8d. Chicago recorded small gains while Buenos Aires remained unchanged.

Interest in cash wheat continued to lag. Coarse grain pit-trading brought out only a few purchases of oats.

DULL SESSION IN TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP).—Except for a little spurt in Western oils on pipeline forecasts, Toronto market was a drab affair Tuesday and the close was narrowly lower. Only 507,000 shares traded.

Senior golds finished unchanged but for a gain of a half-point for Dome. Issues closing narrowly higher included Coniarium, Little Long Lac, O'Brien, Pickle Crow, Premier, Preston and Teck-Hughes.

Stadacona Gold firmed to $1 and then dropped all the gain. Augite, Artfield, Fernland, Madsen, McWatters and Sladen weakened. Losses of 5 or more showed for Moneta, Mining Corporation, Pamour, Powell Rouyn, MacLeod-Cockshutt and Cariboo.

Nickel lost a fraction and Noranda added 1-2. Waite-Amulet recorded a minor gain and Falconbridge dropped 5. The close was down 3 for Eldorado Silver.

Western oils holding minor gains through the day were Calgary & Edmonton, Okalta and Foothills. Royalite advanced a point.

Losses of small fractions were recorded by Brazilian, C.P.R., Ford "A," Dominion Stores and Walker's common. Losses of a point or more were chalked up for International Metals preferred, McColl preferred and National Steel Car.

STRESSES PLACE OF LIFE INSURANCE IN ECONOMY OF NATION

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—At today's annual meeting of the Sun Life of Canada, Arthur B. Wood, president and managing director presented an impressive financial statement and outlined some of the achievements of the Sun Life during 1938 in carrying out the service of life insurance, laying particular stress on the place that life insurance occupies in the economic life of a nation. In simple language, he outlined the part that interest plays in life insurance and how the investment of policyholders' funds keeps the wheels of industry turning. The policyholders' premiums, he said, were a definite contribution to the economic life of the nation, for the investment of these savings creates a single source of long-term capital which is unequalled.

Mr. Wood showed how life insurance—the greatest co-operative enterprise in the history of mankind—benefits the community, but warned against the misconceptions of life insurance which might lead to the penalizing of this great protective institution by undue taxation or otherwise. He cautioned policyholders against the payment of fees for advice about their policies, saying that the best advice can be secured free of cost by applying either to the branch office or head office of the company, or from company representatives, who are today highly-trained specialists.

ROYAL TRUST TO PAY BONUS AGAIN

Regular Dividends Maintained Also, Annual Meeting Told—Profits Are $574,307.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Royal Trust Company, told shareholders at the thirty-ninth annual meeting held here today that the profits for the year 1938 were sufficient to enable the directors to declare the same substantial bonus of $80,000, payable January 31, as paid last year. In addition to the regular dividends totaling $320,000. Profits for the year 1938 were $574,307.14.

The balance sheet showed total assets under administration of $751,500,000.

R. P. Jellett, general manager, stressed the growth of the company's business which had continued throughout the year, although there was a decrease in profit.

"Low rates of return on investments have a double effect on our earnings," he said. "They decrease the income from our investments and also the remuneration for our services where such remuneration takes the form of a percentage on the income collected for clients. Profits from the operation of the guaranteed funds account decreased materially because we were unable to find profitable use for funds offered to us. The amount held by us under guarantee at the end of the year was $6,242,000, a reduction of $3,850,000 from the figure of a year previous."

A. O. Dawson, president of Canadian Cottons, Limited, was added to the board.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

A mixed boatload of vegetables from California arrived on the wholesale row yesterday. The supply consisted of lettuce, cauliflower, celery of a good quality, parsley, carrots, peas, cabbage and broccoli. Shipments of oranges, lemons, grapefruit and bananas included the fruit arrivals yesterday.

A shipment of Texas spinach and supplies of tomatoes and sweet potatoes were the other arrivals.

Reports from the wholesalers are that the lettuce market here is firm with an increase of 50 cents per case. The cabbage market is also firm and local cabbages are still available.

Due this week-end will be a shipment of potatoes from Ashcroft and a shipment of onions from the Okanagan, green beans from Florida and California, and a car of Florida new potatoes. A car of apples is expected tomorrow.

LOVE COMES LAST

by Julie Anne Moore

CHAPTER IX

No one had ever said or had grounds for saying that Laura Wiley lacked courage. And it was courage—the courage to think clearly and sanely—that was most needed at this moment.

Finding Nina in Andy's arms was like no pain she had ever felt before. It left her weak and ill and her blood was like ice water in her veins. For, unlike Andy, she saw far more than what had been revealed to her eyes. It was the end of happiness, the end of the only thing in her life she had really valued as exclusively her own.

Thinking of Nina before she thought of herself was not actually a matter of thinking at all but rather a subconscious habit of years' standing. Even in that first instant of almost paralyzing shock Laura did not let herself resent what she had seen. She sought only to hide from her sister the outward evidence of what was going on within her.

It was courage that gave her the strength to take Nina's outstretched hands and it was courage that enabled her to manufacture a convincing smile—and it was courage such as few mortals possess that held her voice steady when she said at last: "I'm glad, Nina—for you, darling."

It was the sound of Laura's voice that brought Andy to life. Hating himself and feeling utterly despicable, he was at first incapable of either speech or movement. But now as Laura's words came to him, humiliation and all sense of guilt gave way to sudden anger for he suddenly understood what Laura meant to do.

"See here, Laurie—" he began, striding toward them. But that was all; some warning in Laura's eyes stopped him. It was as if she had said: "You can't let her down now. You know what it might do to her . . ." And so he stood there, his face crimson, accepting her mandate until he should have an opportunity to have it out with her alone. He could not see that it would make it any easier for Nina to postpone the inevitable moment when she must be told the truth; but Laura obviously wanted that and under the circumstances he could not oppose her. Not now. But later.

Nina apparently saw nothing, heard nothing, understood nothing but the poignant sweetness of this thing that had suddenly changed her life. She said to her sister: "Isn't Andy funny? Look at him, Laurie. He's like a little boy—all self-conscious and awkward, just because you saw him kissing me."

A bell tinkled and Andy's secretary said from the doorway behind them. "It's Mr. Ford, Mr. Cooper."

I'll take it," Andy said, turned to Laura. "What about tonight?"

"We're in a dither about it—if that's what you mean," Laura replied gaily. She knew he was giving her an opportunity to cancel the engagement, but she would not let him see that she knew it. "Nina's down to buy a new frock for the occasion and I'm seriously considering indulging myself a little." She looked down at her trim brown pumps with their pert little bows. "These wouldn't be quite appropriate, would they?" Abruptly she slipped her arm through Nina's. "The great Ford's on the wire," she said with feigned alarm, "and here we are talking to Andy as if he hadn't a blessed thing to do. We'll see you tonight, Andy."

Andy took his cue. He walked over to his desk, sat down and took up the phone. "Cooper speaking, Mr. Ford . . ."

"Darling, I can't go just yet," Nina protested as Laura literally pulled her toward the door. "I want to say something to Andy — just a word."

"Do you think Andy can talk business with you floating around in here?" Laura smiled. "No, Nina. You can see him later. This Ford business is important. You don't know how important."

Nina went, consoling herself with thought that in a little while she would see him again.

On the street her arm tightened against her sister's. She said, ecstatically, "I can't explain it, Laurie. It began yesterday when he fished me out of the lake—"

Laura did not look at her. "Don't talk about it, Nina. It's one of the things one doesn't talk about because it looses some of its magic when one does." She had to spare herself a little. If only there had been some way she could have slipped off to herself. Right at first without their knowledge she had seen them. Just now it didn't matter so much. This thing she was feeling now wasn't pain—it was a sort of numbness.

Nina said, "I bought the dress, Laurie. Did I tell you? You've never seen anything like it. The salesgirl took an oath she'd have it delivered by five o'clock."

As they talked Laura found herself wondering if it were all as real as it seemed. Wasn't there just a possibility that she was taking it too seriously? Nina had never been one to feel anything very deeply. She remembered thinking at the time that their mother's death hadn't hurt Nina as it might have done. Though of course she was a child and children never quite realize what death means. But she remembered other things—the day old Bristles, the fox terrier, was run over by a car. Nina had cried, a little. But in an hour she had completely forgotten it.

Laura had not meant to go to the studio, but they were at the entrance to the stairs when Nina said: "This is where I get off, I suppose. What time will you come home, Laurie?"

Laura stood with her back to the swinging door. She plucked the cuff of her sleeve, glanced at the small watch on her wrist and said, casually, "I'll try to get there by five. I want to be sure the new dress has a front to it."

"But I'm not that daring," Nina laughed, happily. "You'll never forget the one I bought with the V neck, will you?"

PICKS YOU UP
When Nerves Exhausted

What utter discouragement comes to the man or woman who has a collapse of the nerves. Bodily and mentally weakened and depressed, the future looks black and hope is well nigh lost.

Nervous exhaustion is a deficiency disease. The nerves are failing to get proper nourishment. There is lacking in the blood certain ingredients which the nervous system must have and which are supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the form of vitamin B1 and such minerals as iron which are equally necessary for the restoration of the blood and the nerves.

Whether caused by worry, anxiety and overwork or as the result of debilitating disease the treatment required to regain strength and vigor and health is the same. The nerves must be fed back to health. There is no quick way, so you must expect to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food regularly and persistently until fully restored.

It will not be long until you find that you are sleeping better, have a better appetite and digest your food properly. The Sunshine of health will again cheer you up and give you new hope and confidence to renew with vigor the battle of life. PRESBYTERY CHAIR FILLED

Rev. William Allan Chosen By United Church Body—Secretary Re-elected

REV. WILLIAM ALLAN

Rev. William Allan, pastor of Wilkinson Road United Church, was chosen chairman of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, yesterday, at the semi-annual meeting of the presbytery. Mr. Allan also was re-elected as treasurer, and Rev. H. T. Allen, Nanaimo, was returned as secretary.

The presbytery spent a busy day yesterday, with business meetings in the morning and afternoon lasting until nearly 6 p.m., a luncheon meeting at midday, and an open meeting in the evening. All sessions were held in First United Church, with Rev. Bryce H. Wallace, retiring chairman of the presbytery, presiding. Further business sessions will be held today.

Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid led in worship when the first session opened in the morning. The greetings of the Baptist Church of British Columbia were conveyed by Rev. G. A. Reynolds, of the Victoria Baptist ministry, and a resolution extending greetings to the Anglican synod, now in session in the city, was passed.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

The resignation of Rev. John E. Bell, who will shortly leave Victoria to commence a post-graduate course of study, was accepted by the presbytery.

The presbytery nominated Rev. Dr. S. S. Osterhout, superintendent of missions, who is to retire this year, for the office of president of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church, whose sessions will commence in Queens Avenue Church, New Westminster, on May 17.

A plea for support for a religious movement in high schools and universities was made before the presbytery by J. Forrester, on behalf of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Canada, and was endorsed by the meeting. Mr. Forrester stated that under the auspices of the fellowship there were now 4,500 university and high school students in different parts of the Dominion who held weekly group meetings for Bible study and prayer.

SHORTAGE OF STUDENTS

Attention to the increasing shortage of young men and women wanting to enter the ministry was drawn in a letter from the United Church Board of Christian Education, with headquarters in Toronto. The Presbytery passed a resolution urging the ministers and their congregations to select and approach likely candidates for the ministry, and calling for greater prominence for religion in the home, in order that a feeling for the ministry might be created among the young people.

It was stated that in the last ten years there had been a decrease of 369 in the number actively serving in the United Church ministry, and that the present number of students was not sufficient to fill the vacancies that were being created by death or retirement. It was also resolved, that a study should be made of the problem of students beginning their training for the ministry and subsequently abandoning it.

An encouraging review of the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society was given by Rev. Nelson Harkness, Vancouver, who stated that as far as British Columbia was concerned, 1938 had been the best year in the history of the society. Almost 35,000 Bibles, in forty-two different languages and dialects, had been distributed in the province. In Canada as a whole, more than 300,000 copies, in 111 languages, had been distributed.

MISSIONARIES HONORED

Rev. Dr. G. A. Wilson and Dr. Osterhout, superintendents of missions, who are attending their last semi-annual meeting of the presbytery before retiring from their work, were guests of honor at a luncheon given in First United Church Hall, and resolutions expressing deep appreciation of their great services for the church were passed.

A statistical report presented by Rev. S. H. Smith indicated that there had been a considerable advancement during the past year in church work generally, though there had been a decline in some departments.

The financial statement of the mission and maintenance fund, presented by John Goldie, indicated that approximately $16,000 had been reported for the purposes of the fund. Mr. Goldie also gave a summary of the meeting of the general council of the church, held in Toronto last Autumn.

The presbytery voted in the negative on a remit from the general council suggesting that, while settlements would ordinarily be made at the annual meeting of the general council, the settlement committee should have authority, through an executive, to effect settlements in emergencies during the year.

REMIT ENDORSED

Considerable discussion took place at the close of the afternoon session on a remit from the general council, to the following effect:

"That the transfer committee has authority to transfer candidates for the ministry, recommended for ordination, to the conference where, in the opinion of the transfer committee, their services are most needed for the adequate supply of all pastoral charges, and such ministers shall serve the church in that conference for a period of two years after ordination, unless sooner transferred to some other conference by the action of the transfer committee."

A majority of the presbytery voted in the affirmative on the remit, though many members voiced opposition to any "conscription" in the church.

There was a large congregation at the opening meeting held last evening, at which the need for present-day evangelism was discussed. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod leading the debate from the point of view of the ministers, and G. T. Moir from the viewpoint of the laymen.

Bishop of London To Pay Visit Here During September

RT. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, who laid the foundation of Christ Church Cathedral eleven years ago, proposes to revisit Victoria in September, during a world tour, it was learned yesterday from Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia. The Bishop of London, "grand old man" of the English episcopate, will relinquish his high and arduous office in the Empire's capital at the end of July. His Lordship has ever evinced a warm interest in, and performed great services for, the Church of British Columbia.

ning attire. The women wore black gowns and veils.

In contrast to the 500,000 or more who crowded the Basilica to pass the bier of the Pontiff during the last three days, those at the ceremony, mostly in the chancel or about the central altar, left vast spaces of Christendom's greatest church unoccupied. Admission was by invitation.

DAY OF MOURNING

Friday was proclaimed a national day of mourning in Italy. Then Premier Mussolini and the Italian royal family will pay funeral tribute to Pius XI at a mass in the Church of Saint Andrea de la Valle.

Presiding over the ceremony today was Patriarch Roberto Vincentini, wearing a white mitre.

Throughout the two and one-half-hour ceremony, the organ was silent. The only music was the chanting of choristers.

MINK BREEDERS TO MEET

The Vancouver Island Mink Breeders' Association will have as guest speaker at their regular meeting, on Friday, at 635 Fort Street, W. R. Foster, M.Sc., of the Sidney Experimental Farm. Mr. Foster will continue his lecture begun at the last meeting of the association, on "The Principles of Breeding."

City and District

Three Fined — Three motorists were each fined $2.50 in the city police court for parking over the hour limit.

Pay Respects — In a letter to Mayor Andrew McGavin, the Mothers' Union of the Diocese of Columbia hoped it would be possible for members to pay their respects to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth.

Seeks Information—A. J. Boswell, city comptroller of New Westminster, has written to the City Council asking for full information on automatic amusement machines licensed by the council here.

House Entered — In making his rounds yesterday morning, Constable Douglas Bone found that a vacant house at 1603 Rockland Avenue had been entered by prying open a window. Everything was in order.

Plans Visit—In a letter to the city clerk, Mrs. M. E. Creighton, Kendal, Westmoreland, England, asked for full information on the city. She stated her family intended to make an extended visit to Victoria this year.

Paint Building — Application has been made by N. Lerik, 625 Johnson Street, to have the city paint the upper story of a building at that address. He contends the premises should be improved because of the large number of visitors expected during the royal visit.

To Visit Riding—Premier Pattullo will address the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Vancouver on February 23, it was announced yesterday at his offices here. The Premier will leave after the meeting for Prince Rupert, in a visit to his home constituency.

To Be Tried—Maurice Buckley and Charles Brown will stand trial in the city police court this morning on a charge of possessing an electric drill taken from Smith Brothers, Ltd., foundry at 632 Pembroke Street, knowing the same to have been stolen.

Is Adjourned—Action of Douglas N. St. C. Hodgson versus William D. McPherson commenced before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court yesterday and was adjourned for further hearing at a date to be arranged. Represented by A. J. Patton, Mr. Hodgson claimed $48 for wages allegedly due. Mr. McPherson was represented by O. J. Boulton.

Made District Secretary — F. K. Bennet has been appointed district secretary of the Canadian Numismatic Society, with headquarters at Winnipeg. Mr. Bennet is the British Columbia representative of the society and resides at Ocean Falls. The society was formed in 1937, and its aim is to interest young men and women in the hobby of collecting coins.

Decision Held—Judge H. H. Shandley reserved his decision in County Court in the action of Arthur S. Anderson versus Colin N. Smith, arising out of an automobile collision at Pandora Avenue and Cook Street on the night of December 7, 1938. Mr. Anderson, represented by R. A. Wootton, claimed $90 for car repairs. Represented by Patrick J. Sinnott, Mr. Smith entered a counter-claim for $30.75.

Discuss Liability—At a conference yesterday morning, Alderman Edward Williams discussed with the city solicitor, engineer, fire chief, building inspector and chief of police the liability of the city in regard to plans of a local business man to use roofs for sightseeing purposes during the royal procession. It was pointed out that a number of roofs and parapets on some of the older buildings might prove unsafe if crowded with spectators. Another meeting will be held next week.

GIVES TALK ON SCOTTISH LIFE

Rev. William Allan Tells Burns Club of Old Times In Scotland

"Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot" was the topic of an interesting informal address by Rev. William Allan at last night's meeting of the Burns Club of Victoria in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Mr. Allan is minister of Wilkinson Road and Garden City United Churches, and was yesterday elected as chairman of the Presbytery of Victoria.

The speaker gave an interesting review of Scottish life in the eighteenth century and coupled with it mention of the industrial, religious, political and cultural advancement of Scotland. It was an informal talk "about old times" in which Mr. Allan mentioned a number of things associated with Scotland and its people, relating the wealth of industry given the world by Scottish firms and individuals. He also mentioned some of the customs and institutions of the country, and as a prelude, gave a short talk on the practical genius of Burns and the Scottish love of tradition.

NAME COMMITTEE

The business portion of the meeting included the appointment of a nominating committee for the annual meeting and election of officers, to be held in April. The committee is composed of the following: W. B. Grant and Dr. W. R. Gunn, representing the executive committee, and John Grant, A. S. Christie and M. Marsh representing the membership.

The entertainment consisted of vocal solo, Miss M. Mitchell; violin solo, A. Anderson; vocal solo, J. Bell; reading of an original poem, W. B. Grant, and Scottish dances by Miss Gwen Dewar. Miss Jessie Smith was the accompanist. J. A. Dewar, the president, presided and the vote of thanks to speaker and artists was moved by N. B. Pollock.

Obituary

NOON — Mrs. Emily Gertrude Noon, wife of William George Noon, of Carey Road, died yesterday morning in the Royal Jubilee Hospital, aged eighty years. Mrs. Noon was born in England and came to Victoria sixteen years ago from Manitoba, where she lived for many years, having been a pioneer of the Winnipeg district. She leaves her husband, and one son, William Garden Noon, in Austin, Man. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HALLAM — Mrs. Frances Mary Hallam, wife of John Douglas Hallam, of Ail Bay, Sidney, died yesterday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital. She leaves her husband, two daughters and a son, Mrs. P. S. Bapty, London, England, and Mrs. Irene Griffith and Donald C. Hallam, in Los Angeles, Cal. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

RITCHIE — Robert Ritchie, aged sixty-eight years, of 1321 Hillsdale Street, died yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and came here thirty years ago from Nelson. He leaves six sons, Ernest, in Hamilton, Ont., and Raymond, Lorne, Wilfred, Gerald and Douglas, and one daughter, Mrs. H. C. Hanson, all of Victoria; four sisters, Mrs. G. Winter, Victoria; Mrs. T. Furnell and Mrs. J. Oughton, Vancouver, and Mrs. A. Finn, in Seattle; also his grandson, Lorne, at the family residence, and eleven other grandchildren in this city. His wife predeceased him on December 18. The funeral will take place from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Rev. A. E. Whitehouse will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

MAY—At the Royal Jubilee Hospital there passed away yesterday, Mrs. Mary Ann May, aged seventy-four years, wife of Walter May, of 2054 Meadow Place. Mrs. May was born in Kent, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past twenty-six years. She is mourned by her husband, and one daughter, Miss Evangeline May, at home. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, at 2 o'clock. Pastor E. W. Robinson will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

SNELL — Many sympathizing friends were present yesterday afternoon at the funeral services for John A. Snell. Rev. James Hood conducted the service, during which two hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me," were sung. Interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park, the following acting as pallbearers: R. O. Lamb, C. W. R. Pearson, J. G. MacFarlane, A. D. Macfarlane, K.C.; F. W. Bull and H. Dane. S. J. punishment to be imposed on his opponents.

TO CHALLENGE CONTROL

PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 14 (AP). —An attempt by the Spanish Government fleet to challenge insurgent control of the sea was seen by some observers today as a possible aftermath of a proclamation issued by Government naval chiefs. Sailors of the Government fleet were admonished to do their duty "to the death if necessary."

Insurgent control of all Catalonia now makes it necessary for the Government to import all supplies by sea if it is to survive long in the Madrid-Valencia-Alicante zone.

The Government naval proclamation directed all sailors to stay at their posts and warned them that "cowards" would be dealt with implacably.

Pedestrian Has The Better of It

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP). — George Mackus, twenty-two, didn't get the worst of it when he walked into the side of a moving automobile. Mackus collided with the car so forcefully a window was shattered and Wendell McLaren, twenty-three, a passenger, was cut by flying glass. Mackus also suffered cuts on the face and arms.

ACHIEVEMENTS ARE RECALLED

Objectives of Local Kiwanis Club During Past Nineteen Years Reviewed

A number of past presidents of the Victoria Kiwanis Club were the speakers at the nineteenth birthday anniversary observed yesterday in the Empress Hotel. A large birthday cake, complete with nineteen candles, was a unique feature of the luncheon.

Austin I. Curtis, president, turned the meeting over to Kenneth Ferguson, past president and past district governor, who introduced G. H. Stevens, who in turn introduced the past presidents, each one giving a resume of some accomplishments of the club.

It was on December 19, 1919, the club was founded here, Mr. Ferguson said, with a special representative from Kiwanis International at Chicago in attendance. The membership at that time was 100, while today it is eighty-five. Two district conventions have been held in Victoria, and the third will be held in September, the speaker stated. Mr. Ferguson, in paying tribute to the present club, said that never did the group have such a splendid or representative membership than at the present time.

HOSPITAL WORK

Mr. Stevens then called on C. Elwood Watkins, who gave the history of the club's part in the erection of the east wing of the Jubilee Hospital. He pointed out that the local organization raised $10,000 for this objective, much of the money being realized from minstrel shows and other entertainments.

Dr. S. J. Willis recounted the history of the Kiwanis scholarship, which was commenced in 1920 and has continued right up until the present date. The idea of encouraging first year students who intended continuing their education, was deemed a worthy objective, Dr. Willis said.

W. A. Luney gave a resume of construction work done by the club. Entertainment was provided by Cecil Boulter, pianist.

TO BRING MATTER UP AT GATHERING

The matter of prohibiting commercial clam digging at Cowichan Bay will be brought up at a meeting of the Up-Island body at Nanaimo this evening, members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association decided at their gathering Monday night in the English Bakery Hall, Fort Street.

Another committee, Stan Ross, C. Grant and C. McDonald, was appointed to help Game Wardens Cash and Jones in trapping pheasants in restricted hunting areas and putting them in open spaces. The entertainment committee, it was decided, will go ahead and make arrangements for the showing of the game life pictures in the near future, while the membership committee was instructed to open a drive for new members.

President George Beck, R. Meldram, J. Falkins and Jack King were chosen to represent the association at the Up-Island Affiliated Fish and Game meeting tonight in Nanaimo.

Westerns Defeat Munros Quintette

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP). — An Inter-City Basketball League double-header here left Westerns and Tookes tied for league leadership, gave Varsity a mathematical chance to finish in third place and eliminated the possibility of Staceys reaching the play-offs.

Westerns managed to eke out a 52-50 overtime tie from Munros after the latter quintette had overcome an early lead and deadlocked the game at 50-50 in the last half minute of play.

Splendid Cough Remedy Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient remedy, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

An Ideal of Service Calls for Sacrifice In Lives of Youth

Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Guest Speaker at Annual Meeting of Y.W.C.A., Held Last Evening—Increase Noted in All Branches of Work

"UNTIL we manage to instill into our young people a great ideal of service, there will be no hope for a great Canada," declared Dr. Henrietta Anderson, of the Provincial Normal School, during her address at the annual dinner meeting of the Y.W.C.A. last night held in the association building dining-room.

Dr. Anderson's subject was "While This Peace Is Raging," and she left with her audience several noteworthy thoughts. All had direct bearing upon young people and under the headings of success, service and sacrifice, she gave a commonsense, stimulating and at the same time idealistic talk which greatly impressed her listeners.

Every young person, she stated, had a right to look forward to a certain amount of success, material or otherwise. It was a difficult problem in the world today, though, she said "we must blame the government, for we are the government. We have not wrestled with the problem of unemployment."

She expressed her faith in "combined thinking" and the will to peace. "Peace," she declared, "bubbles up from the bottom, it does not descend from the top, and it is our duty to do what we can in this regard."

IDEAL OF SERVICE

Dr. Anderson was of the opinion that "in this country we have not emphasized the ideal of service, we did not build it into our educational system, though the new curriculum is in some degree dealing with this, nor have we emphasized it in the home." Without sacrifice, there could be neither success nor service, for "all greatness had carried with it its attendant sacrifices."

A number of amusing anecdotes, told in her characteristically humorous way, brought to mind Dr. Anderson's early experiences with the Y.W.C.A. in London. At the conclusion of her address, she was given a hearty expression of thanks by Dr. Olga Jardine.

BUSINESS MEETING

The annual meeting began with a welcome from the president, Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, and greetings from the Mayor of Victoria, who with Mrs. McGavin sat at the head table. Miss Margaret Stewart brought greetings from the Girls' Council and Rev. John Bell gave the devotional reading and prayer. The adoption of the minutes of the previous annual meeting by Mrs. Roy Angus, recording secretary, was moved by Mrs. Angus, seconded by Mrs. Paterson.

"In summing up things briefly, 1938 was a year of solid progress and substantial achievement in our various activities," said Mrs. Heisterman, in her report as president. It was the first year as a member of the Community Chest, and financial worries had been largely minimized. Mrs. Histerman welcomed Miss Doris Jones, the new general secretary, and spoke in high terms of her qualifications. Other new members of the staff were also referred to by the president. The number of girls and young women who used the Y.W.C.A. had increased and the association building had become in every sense a community centre. Mrs. Heisterman thanked the board members, the staff, the press, and all who had had the interest of the Y.W.C.A. at heart.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Mrs. Alex T. Stewart read the treasurer's statement in full. The annual receipts had been $26,459.55, and the expenditures, $25,058.94. Miss Doris Jones, the general secretary, gave a bird's-eye view of the past year's accomplishments, referring briefly to each department and phase of the work. A full report, prepared by Miss Helen Kirkwood, was distributed to those attending the meeting. The annex had been under the direction of Miss Gilchrist and had afforded a comfortable home for many older women who find their way to the association. There had been 350 transient guests and a number of permanent residents had lived there. The travelers' aid service had increased, 945 persons being assisted during the year, an increase of 300 over 1937. Boats numbering 1,549 and 293 buses had been met. Miss Russell had succeeded Miss Schofield as travelers' aid worker, who had also been appointed social service secretary, and this department had dealt with personal counselling, emergency relief and temporary care for girls and women.

MANY GUESTS

The residence and dining-room report showed that 1,166 transient guests had been housed and 36,062 meals had been served. There had been an increase in the number of outside agencies using the Y.W.C.A. for meetings, seventy-one having met during the year. The work of the girls' work department, the senior department and the special classes had afforded interest for a large number of young women, and the vocational classes, reading and current affairs groups and health education classes had all been important factors in the growing scope of the Y.W.C.A. activities.

NOMINATIONS

Dr. Olga Jardine brought in the report of the nominating committee, Miss Elsie Peters being appointed to fill Mrs. Cassidy's place on the board, and the following members being renominated for a three-year term: Mrs. J. M. Paterson, Miss A. J. Fawcett, Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Mrs. Ross Crane, Mrs. A. C. Brand and Mrs. L. A. Gane.

Miss Lauretta McCall and Mr. W. Inglis sang two duets, "Bird Songs at Eventide" and "Sympathy," with Miss Margaret Pringle as accompanist. They received appreciative applause from the guests. A skit by the senior girls' council was amusing, the scene being a committee meeting in the year 1960. Miss Gertrude Owen, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A. for Australia, gave a short talk and extended greetings on behalf of the world association.

The dinner tables were beautifully arranged with daffodils and tulips, the artistic handiwork of Mrs. J. D. Hunter.

Clubs-Societies

Current Events Club

There waas a good attendance on Monday afternoon in the Gordon Head Hall for the Current Events Club meeting. The chief feature was a quiz programme which was much enjoyed and caused great amusement. There were three prizes, Mrs. Maddick won the prize for the lady who answered the most questions, Mrs. Galbraith won the prize for the question no one could answer, and Mrs. Frost for the best question. Mrs. Paddon sang two songs of her own composition, "Good Morning" and "Good Night," which were much enjoyed. Mrs. Hammond gave a short review of Mrs. Cash's book, "I Like British Columbia."

Catholic League

The Catholic Women's League held its monthly meeting at the Bishop's House last night with the president, Mrs. Blair Reid, in the chair. Arrangements for a bazaar to be held at St. Ann's Convent on February 21, in the afternoon and evening, were made. Bishop Cody will open the affair at 2 o'clock. All friends of the Sisters will be welcomed. Hospital visiting will be carried on by Mrs. Hornby and Mrs. Blair Reid. Rev. Father Gaudette gave an interesting talk on the crusade being launched by the Catholic Youth Organization of Canada, which is against the publication of immoral and indecent literature.

Central W.C.T.U.

The Frances Willard Memorial meeting of Central W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Swainson, 3102 Washington Avenue, on Friday, at 3 p.m. Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid will be the speaker. The musical programme will include solos by Miss Phyllis Deaville. Interested men and women are invited. Tea will be served by Mrs. David Fair.

Langford League

A card party under the auspices of the Langford Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Legion Hall, at Langford. Contract bridge and five hundred will be played. Good prizes will be given and refreshments served.

Lodge Meeting

Princess Margaret Rose Lodge No. 40, will hold its annual banquet on Wednesday, February 22, in the Sons of England Hall at 6 p.m. Any adult member of sister lodges wishing to attend is asked to telephone G 3218 for information.

Queen Alexandra W.B.A.

A short business meeting of the Queen Alexandra W.B.A. will be held in the K. of C. Hall on Monday next at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by a bridge and whist card party with Mrs. Jean Bowden as convener.

St. Paul's W.M.S.

The Junior Auxiliary to the W.M.S. of St. Paul's Church will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow. A social will be held after the meeting.

"How's the wife, George?"

"She's just had quinsy."

"Gosh! How many is that you've got now?"

Valentine Tea Held By Guild

Excellent support was given the St. Valentine's tea held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Hood, 633 Simcoe Street, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The guests were welcomed by the hostess, who was assisted by the honorary presidents, Mrs. W. L. Clay and Mrs. J. L. W. McLean, and by the president, Mrs. C. W. Hawkins.

Bowls of Spring flowers and foliage were used in the living-room, and Valentine decorations were prominent on the tea table, which was centred with a silver container filled with red carnations and flanked by tall red tapers in silver sconces. Mrs. J. H. Young, Mrs. G. A. Lister, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. J. A. Kennedy presided at the tea and coffee urns, and members of the social committee assisting in serving were Mesdames Surphlis, D. Scott, A. Starr, L. W. Johnson, Cudlip, P. J. Campbell, M. Hodge and J. G. Burnett.

Mrs. Surphlis was tea convener, and Mrs. W. Head, treasurer, was in receipt of customs. During the afternoon vocal solos sung by Mrs. J. T. Lister and Miss Mitchell, accompanied by Miss Jessie Smith, added to the pleasure of the guests.

Mrs. Palmer Gives Party On Birthday

Mrs. Kate Palmer, who has been a resident of Victoria for the past forty-nine years, celebrated her seventieth birthday on Monday and entertained her friends in the Victoria Women's Institute rooms. Many old-timers accepted Mrs. Palmer's invitation to attend the tea party, although the announcement that the occasion was her birthday came as a surprise to them.

Among the guests was Mrs. F. Willis, who came out from England with Mrs. Palmer on May 1, 1890.

ASSIST HOSTESS

Mrs. Palmer was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mrs. J. V. Meston and Mrs. H. C. Hill, and helping during the tea hour were Mesdames C. Fawcett and B. Wait, Misses Audrey Meston, Daphne Gill, Helene and Thelma Wait also assisting in serving tea. Seated at the head table with Mrs. Palmer were her daughters, Mrs. H. C. Gill and Mrs. J. V. Meston, her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Palmer, and her nieces, Mrs. E. Cave, Mrs. F. Goodman and Mrs. C. Fawcett. The table was covered with a Cluny lace cloth and a large silver basket of red carnations, with red tapers in black holders.

A musical programme added to the enjoyment of the guests, and consisted of solos, "Thank God for a Garden" and "Happy Song," sung by Mrs. J. V. Meston, with Mrs. G. Anstey as accompanist; two recitations by Mrs. W. B. Chadwick, "Sunset Glow," composed specially for the occasion by Mrs. Chadwick and dedicated to Mrs. Palmer, and "The Seekers," by John Masefield. Mrs. H. C. Gill sang "Queen of the Earth" and "When Song Is Sweet."

THE DECORATIONS

The rooms were prettily decorated with pussy willows and red hearts, in the centre of each heart being a large red "70" in honor of Mrs. Palmer's birthday. Mrs. Palmer welcomed her guests, who numbered over sixty, and included her daughters, nieces and grandnieces.

After tea, the guests joined in a community singsong, "Auld Lang Syne" and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" bringing the programme to an end. The souvenir contest was won by Mrs. H. Callow. Mrs. Palmer received many beautiful flowers and gifts in remembrance of the day.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter

Arrangements for the annual meeting of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, to be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, were completed at the monthly meeting of the chapter held last night at headquarters, with Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, regent, presiding. The annual meeting will be held in the Business and Professional Women's Club Rooms, 301 Union Building. Mrs. P. E. Corby was appointed national councillor by the chapter. A donation of $1 to the Peace Garden was made. Mrs. William Ellis will convene the tea to be held after the annual meeting on Saturday, and Mrs. Dowdall is the general convener for the chapter's stall at the I.O.D.E. gala fete, to be held today at the Armoury.

Social Is Given By Schubert Club

There was a good attendance of members at the combined practice and social gathering of the Schubert Club in the Y.M.C.A. clubrooms on Monday evening. Numbers to be included in the March recital, to be given for the benefit of Sunshine Inn, were rehearsed, under the direction of Mr. Frederic King, conductor.

During the social hour that followed, an attractive programme was enjoyed to which the following contributed: "The Lotus Flower" (Schumann) and "Death and the Maiden" (Schubert), by Mrs. R. H. Tait; Schubert's "Du Bist Die Ruh" and "The Organ Grinder," by Miss M. E. Swain, and a vocal duet, "A Brown Bird Singing," Haydn Wood), by the Misses Atchison and Clyde.

Contests, including a quiz game, provided an entertaining feature of the evening, and refreshments were served by the executive.

TO SAIL FOR PERU

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP)—Miss Barbara Hutton, Vancouver, sailed today on the Margaret Johnson for Peru, where she will be married to Mr. John Moncrief Mortimer, Victoria. She is accompanied on the trip by her mother, Mrs. Walter W. Hutton.

Mr. Mortimer and Miss Hutton will be married at Lima. They will live in Oroyo, Peru, where he is employed by the Hearst Mining Company. Both are graduates of the University of British Columbia.

Anglican Young People

LANGFORD-COLWOOD

The regular monthly meeting of the Langford-Colwood branch was held on Monday evening in the Legion Hall at Langford. K. Hincks presided and David McLean read the report of the local council. Plans were made for the pre-Lenten rally to be held on Sunday at St. Paul's Church, Victoria. In the unavoidable absence of Rev. G. R. V. Bolster, Valentine games and competitions were enjoyed. These were arranged by David McLean, assisted by Miss Eileen Hincks. Prize winners included Phyllis and Audrey Parkinson, Kathleen Almond, Kenneth and Claude Hincks, Dorothy Baldock and Howard Smedley.

To Open Gala-Fete Today

MRS. KYRLE SYMONS

Regent of Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., who will open the fete and gala at the Armoury today at 2:30 o'clock, the affair having been arranged by all the Victoria Chapters of the order. Mrs. Symons is co-convener with Mrs. R. Shanks of the entire affair, and each primary chapter has devoted its energies to some form of entertainment, stall or novel attraction.

Valentine Carnival Arranged

Mount Douglas High School staff, students and parents are busily preparing for a Valentine carnival, to take place next Friday at St. Luke's Parish Hall.

The affair is being organized on an elaborate scale, with both afternoon and evening programmes, Mrs. U. Ley being convener of the former, and Mrs. N. Bell, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, convener of the latter.

In the afternoon there will be a variety of attractions with afternoon tea, sale of home-cooking a stall of plants, a stall of superfluities; in the evening there will be Monte Carlo attractions and a programme of songs and instrumental music.

Featured in the entertainment will be the fashion display, in which girls of Mount Douglas High School will act as mannequins. Attractive styles for sport wear, afternoon dresses and other Spring modes are being lent for the occasion by Lyles, of 1441 Douglas Street. There will also be a showing of old-fashioned dresses. Another attraction will be the section devoted to the display of antiques, among the articles offered for this being some old London (England) newspapers of 1784; a 1692 clock, ancient samplers and antique needlework. There will be a children's photograph competition, in which will be accepted pictures of children from one to six years of age. Entries for this and other sections should be sent care of the school.

The children will be specially catered for, as not only will there be a fish pond and other attractions for the small folk, but a creche is being provided in which very young children will be cared for while their mothers enjoy themselves at the party.

The proceeds of the carnival are to be used, for the purchase of a radio for the school.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SUGARLESS Dessert—Chop fine one-half cup pitted dates, add one-fourth cup coarse nut meats, one-fourth cup bran, one-half cup rolled graham crackers, one-half teaspoon vanilla, pinch of salt. Mix with enough sweet cream to make a roll. Put in ice box several hours. Slice and serve with whipped cream. This amount serves four.

Weddings

HODGINS—BLAND

The marriage took place in St. Mark's Church, Vancouver, on Friday evening, when Shirley, daughter of the late Dr. J. W. Bland and Mrs. Bland, Point Grey Road, Vancouver, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Denison Heathcote Hodgins, elder son of Colonel A. E. Hodgins and Mrs. Hodgins, Fairfield Road, Victoria. Rev. Douglas Watney officiated.

The bride wore a monastic style gown of dusty pink dull silk crepe made with a high neckline, a full skirt and wide girdle. Her hat and accessories were cranberry colored and she wore a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Both the bride and groom were unattended and left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip. They will make their home in Vancouver.

McLEOD—GREER

Rev. E. M. Cook united in marriage Thelma Loraine "Sally" Archibald, youngest daughter of Mrs. B. Greer, Chemainus, and Mr. George A. McLeod, Chemainus, the ceremony taking place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Chemainus, on Saturday evening, February 11.

The bride wore a most becoming afternoon frock of black crepe, with quilted jacket of powder blue, with wide blue suede belt, black pleated French model chapeau, with brilliant pin trimming, and veil. Her corsage bouquet was of pink carnations. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. D. McLeod, who wore a gown of black chiffon, black lace jacket and tiny red chapeau, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Ray Harling, Vancouver, supported the groom. The only other guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. Greer, the bride's parents, and Mr. M. J. McLeod.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding luncheon was served at the Horseshoe Bay Hotel, where the three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride. The toast was proposed to the bride by Mr. Harling.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod left later for Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria, the bride donning a finger-tip-length black Astrakhan coat. On their return they will reside in Chemainus.

Educational Ideas Changing in India

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP).—Newly-awakened educational aspirations of India's women have made existing institutions inadequate to cope with the situation, Nora Brockway, principal of St. Christopher's Teachers' College at Madras, said here today in an address.

Schools built for boys now are receiving women pupils in Bengal, she stated, and requirements have become so great the Bengal Government has decided to open two colleges for women, each to accommodate 700.

DANCE PRACTICE

The Shirley Community Association is holding old-time practice dances every Wednesday evening at the hall, which are well attended. There will be a modern dance on February 25, with a good orchestra and refreshments.

Bride and Groom to Live Here

Miss Maureen Grute, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Grute, 650 Linden Avenue, and the late Capt. Henry Grute, made a charming bride when she was united in marriage to Mr. Denis Godfrey Jack Humphries, son of Mrs. Albert J. Humphries and the late Mr. Humphries, 1290 Richardson Street, by Bishop John C. Cody, the ceremony taking place in the Bishop's House, View Street, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Given in marriage by Mr. Roger H. A. Humphries, Vancouver, brother of the groom, the bride was becomingly gowned in heavy cream brocaded satin fashioned with a very full hoop skirt extending from a moulded bodice with heart-shaped neckline. Her embroidered veil of tulle extended to the hem of the dress and was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and tiny cream calla lilies. Her semi-shower bouquet consisted of Butterfly roses, gardenias and Coster narcissi.

ATTRACTIVE BRIDESMAID

Miss Helen Peden was the bride's only attendant and made an attractive bridesmaid in a frock of Alpine rose lace, with pert doll hat trimmed with matching colored flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of briar roses, violets and heather. Mr. Edmond Christopher supported the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 650 Linden Avenue, and the bride and groom stood in front of the massive fireplace, which was banked with Japanese plum blossom. They were assisted in receiving the guests by the bride's mother, who wore a model gown of fuchsia chiffon, with a velvet black hat with fuchsia trimming, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and violets, and the groom's mother in a soft black velvet frock, with matching toque and corsage bouquet of red roses and swansonia. The drawing-rooms were lovely with Spring flowers and plum blossom.

The wedding breakfast was served from a daintily arranged table, edged with fern and snowdrops and centred with the lovely three-tier wedding cake flanked by four lighted ivory tapers in crystal candlesticks.

LEAVE FOR HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Humphries left on the afternoon boat for Seattle to spend their honeymoon motoring through the United States. For traveling the bride donned a green Angora wool dress, matching halo hat and brown fur coat. Her corsage bouquet consisted of Talisman roses and gerbera. Upon their return, they will make their home at 977 Oliver Street.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. A. Humphries, Vancouver.

Women's Institutes

SHIRLEY

Mrs. H. F. Anderson was hostess to the members of the Shirley Institute at their monthly meeting which was held at her home, Mrs. W. J. Shannon, president, was in the chair, and there was an attendance of twelve members. The action of the Shawnigan Lake Institute in recommending that only Canadian-made flunting be used for decorations for the Royal visit, was endorsed. The home economics correspondence course will be taken up by the Institute, especially the dress-making lessons. The next meeting of the institute will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Ruttan.

LUXTON DANCE

A special Valentine dance, sponsored by the Luxton Athletic Club, will be held at Luxton Hall on Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The president, Roy Flatman, and an efficient committee, are in charge of arrangements and plan to make the evening an outstanding one. Modern and all old-time dancing will be enjoyed. A three-piece orchestra will provide the music.

Mrs. J. Sandiland Again Heads Arbutus Chapter

The third annual meeting of Arbutus Chapter, I.O.D.E., Chemainus, was held at the home of Mrs. D. Stevens recently, with the regent, Mrs. J. Sandiland, presiding.

Mrs. Sandiland was re-elected regent of the chapter, with the following executive: First vice-regent, Mrs. H. Wilson; second vice-regent, Mrs. P. Donoghue; secretary, Mrs. P. S. Lomas; treasurer, Mrs. R. McBride; education secretary, Mrs. D. Stevens; Echoes secretary, Mrs. T. Larman; standard-bearer, Mrs. J. McKinnon; child and family welfare, Mrs. L. Newton; Empire study, Miss K. Thompson; endowment, Miss E. Clement; immigration, Mrs. R. Milligan; films, Miss L. Wyllie.

The treasurer's report and that of the secretary covered the following contributions during the year: Elizabeth Halley fund, Mary Croft Memorial fund, Susie Sorabji fund, Dean Bollert educational fund, Queen's University memorial, national convention, endowment fund, Chemainus P.-T.A. piano fund, and Chemainus Christmas cheer fund.

Reports also covered clothing to an adopted family in the Peace River, and five Chemainus cases; the adoption of Sahtlam School; high school books supplied for pupil, and in connection with the opening of the new Chemainus School in September, 300 King George V greeting cards were presented to school children; ten calendars were placed in Chemainus schools, and forty-two children's names linked with foreign correspondents; and a donation of a school sports cup.

The chapter entered an Empire float in the July 1 parade in Ladysmith and Chemainus, and the members assisted with the Red Cross canvass during the Summer. The cenotaph is being cared for by the chapter members. The chapter members are 100 per cent Echoes subscribers.

After the meeting, a former regent, Miss I. Vye, presented the regent, Mrs. J. Sandiland, with a bouquet of tulips. The executive entertained at tea, the table being decorated by Miss Clement, who conducted an excellent questionnaire, which was won by Miss L. Wyllie.

Gay Dance Is Given by Golf Club

A gay party was held last night at the Uplands Golf Club, when about 150 members and friends attended the annual Valentine dance. Balloons suspended from the ceiling in the ballroom, together with large and small hearts, which decorated the walls, lent a festive atmosphere throughout the evening. Valentine shades covered the lights in the ballroom. Hats, balloons and favors were distributed to the guests, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour to the music played by a popular four-piece orchestra. Medleys added to the evening's fun.

Spring flowers and pussy willow were charmingly arranged in the lounge, and pussy willow and red hearts were used in decorating the lower lounge, where supper was served, the table being centred with a bowl of fragrant flowers flanked by red tapers. Red hearts were placed about the table.

Mr. Douglas Fletcher, chairman of the committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Fletcher was assisted in the arrangements by Mr. A. Craig, Mr. George Beveridge and Mr. J. P. Hannah.

V.O.N. Hears Address by Supervisor

The monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held at 1006 St. Charles Street yesterday, when members of the board had the pleasure of listening to an interesting address from Miss McCuaig, the Western supervisor of the V.O.N. from Ottawa, who spoke briefly on the conference of supervisors held by the national committee in Ottawa last November.

Miss Creasor reported 1,149 visits had been paid by the nurses during the month of January, of which 758 were free and 299 were new cases. There had been 59 pre-natals, 144 mothers and babies, 25 pneumonia, 108 communicables, 47 cancer, 109 chronics, 333 others and 324 instructive.

Twenty-seven night calls were recorded. There were four baby clinics held with an attendance of sixty-four, and seven classes in home nursing and child care, as well as four pre-natal sewing classes.

It was mentioned that the annual Lenten sewing meetings will start next week, the first taking place at the home of Mrs. Norman Yarrow, 925 Foul Bay Road, on Wednesday at 2 p.m. All interested in the work are cordially invited to attend.

Bird Songs to Be Heard in Address

An illustrated address on "Birds and Flowers of Canada" will be given by Charles Bowman Hutchins, of Colorado, at the Metropolitan Church, on the evening of Friday, February 24. Mr. Hutchins, who is being brought here under the auspices of the Metropolitan Women's Auxiliary, is a well-known authority on birds, animals and nature generally, and during a visit here about fourteen years ago he heard the skylark, and will reproduce the skylark's song which he first heard here at that time. He will whistle or sing a number of other bird songs during the evening and will show some lantern slides picturing birds little known in this part of the continent.

Variety Concert Programme Given

A pleasingly diversified concert programme arranged by the Victoria branch of the Royal Society of St. George, was presented in the Conservative Rooms, Campbell Building, last night under the chairmanship of K. C. Symons.

The concert opened with the singing of "Land of Hope and Glory," and the programme comprised songs by Miss Phyllis Deaville, "My Johann," "Spring Moods" and "Vesper Song," accompanied by Mrs. Grace Deaville; dance numbers by Miss Margaret Semple, accompanied by Mrs. K. Langley; songs by K. William Symons, "Song of the Bow," "Love, Could I Only Tell Thee" and "My Dear Soul"; piano solos by Miss Lily Stuart, and recitations by A. W. Semple. The programme concluded with an amusing play, "The Weaker Sex," by Mrs. Rosa Semple and Reuben Hardy.

Refreshments were provided by the ladies at the conclusion of the concert.

INDUBITABLY

In the corner of the clubroom, Pusher was holding forth as usual, and this time the economic habits of the Scot were his theme.

"Go where you will," cried the bore, "to the remotest corner of the earth, and wherever you find him you will observe one thing—Sandy never wastes!"

"I don't agree," said Crump, bluntly.

Pusher turned to him. "What?" he gasped. "Why?"

"Have you ever been to the Sahara?" asked Crump.

"No."

"Ah," retorted Crump, "if you had been, what would you have found there? Sandy wastes—of course!"

Pattern 9972

OF course you're looking for a new-style dress to make you look your prettiest . . . and this is it! There's such fresh, flowerlike smartness about pattern 9972, enhancing the charm of every figure whether size 14 or 42. Ever see a more flattering bodice? The added fulness is easily shirred below the shoulders and above the waist, in the most delightful effect imaginable. The sleeves, too, are chic, shirred up in a becoming curve—while the flared skirt is grace itself. Why not add clips or bows to the dainty neck? And why not change occasionally from a self belt to a sash? Further good news — the making is very simple!

Pattern 9972 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards 39-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents in coins for this Marion Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

DANCE AT Y.W.C.A.

The Junior Business Club of the Y.W.C.A. were hostesses at an enjoyable Valentine dance last evening in the recreation room at the association building, when the special guests were members of the Phalanx Club.

The dance room was prettily decorated with red and white streamers, red hearts and other Valentine novelties. A three-piece orchestra played the dance music and a buffet supper was served. The guests were welcomed by Miss Doris Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crane and Miss Dorothy Beech. There were 150 guests at the party, which continued until 1:30 o'clock. The committee in charge of arrangements for the dance included Misses Beth McNair, Evelyn Finlayson, Gertrude Thompson, Alice McKenzie and Jeannette Stark.

Society Officers Are Re-elected

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP)—Mrs. James Barr was re-elected president of the Vancouver Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at the annual meeting of the society here today.

Colonel W. W. Foster honorary president and all members of the executive also were returned.

PLANS ANNUAL SESSION HERE

Local Council of Women Prepares for Meeting February 22 and 23

Highlights of the International Council of Women meeting held last Summer in Edinburgh will be given by Mrs. Thomas Bingham president of the Vancouver Local Council, at the annual meeting of the Victoria Local Council of Women to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, February 22 and 23, at the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street.

Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the Victoria Local Council, announced that this would be one of the features when the forthcoming meeting was under discussion on Monday at the Y.W.C.A. Other speakers at the annual meeting will be Angus Macleod, superintendent of New Haven, the Borstal Unit at Burnaby. There will be a report of the Dominion-Provincial youth-training plan. All affiliated societies will give three-minute reports. Correspondence included a letter from Mayor Andrew McGavin stating that he would be present at the opening session if nothing unforeseen intervened.

REPRESENTATIVES NAMED

Correspondence also included a letter from Dr. Turnbull, of the local branch of the Cancer Control Society, asking the Local Council to appoint two representatives to the local organization. Dr. Jardine and Miss Creason were named.

In response to a letter sent the National Council requesting that they postpone their annual meeting until after the Royal visit to Canada, the National Council stated that this would be impossible owing to special circumstances concerning the arrangements.

Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie gave a report covering removal and replanting of boulevard trees, and the council subsequently reiterated its stand requesting that the city have a parks advisory board, which would ensure continuity of policy.

LIBERALS FORM SEPARATE BODY

Oak Bay Association to Include New Area—Elect Officers March 13

Liberal supporters in the new Oak Bay riding, embracing Gordon Head and Cadboro Bay, which was brought into being in the redistribution carried out by the Provincial Legislature at the last session, on Monday night resolved to form a separate body, to be known as the Oak Bay Liberal Association. Up until this year, as electors of the Victoria riding, Liberals of the Oak Bay municipality had been members of a ward association, with delegates to the central executive.

Last night's meeting, held in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall, was arranged by the executive committee of the former ward association, and was very largely attended. G. M. Mowat presided over the meeting, and C. B. McIntosh acted as secretary.

It was resolved that a further meeting should be held on March 13 for the election of officers of the new association and to formulate a policy and draft a constitution. Invitations to attend this meeting will be extended to all Liberals living within the boundaries of the new provincial riding.

PROSPECTORS ARE SAFE

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP)—Three prospectors for whom anxiety was felt when they failed to return from a prospecting trip to Texada Island, were safe in Vancouver today, arriving a few hours before British Columbia Police launched a search for them.

FIRE CHIEF URGES CLEANER CHIMNEYS

Fire Chief Alex Munroe issued a warning to householders and property owners yesterday that too many chimney fires had occurred in the city this year. He pointed out that it was the duty of tenants, owners, lessees, or any other persons in occupation of premises, to prevent chimneys, flues and stovepipes from becoming unclean or taking fire. The chief stated prosecution would result in future cases of neglect.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION

CALGARY, Feb. 14 (CP)—Mrs. Sarah Caplan, sixty, of Calgary, was reported in serious condition by Holy Cross Hospital attendants after she fell down the basement stairs at her home. Mrs. Caplan suffered loss of blood resulting from her fall onto a glass jar which cut her wrist.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, in nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug stores, or any druggist, a package of Hemrod and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemrod is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost. (Advt.)

THREE YOUTHS HELD FOR NANAIMO THEFT

NANAIMO, Feb. 14.—Police today arrested three Nanaimo youths at Horne Lake and charged them with burglarizing the store of S. Drake, corner Dixon and Nicol Streets, late Monday night.

Police allege that the youths, two sixteen and one seventeen years old, stole a car from Ladysmith on Sunday night, and on Monday night entered the store.

For the past two weeks numerous houses in the city have been entered and ransacked, and police believe these burglaries will cease with arrest of the youths.

What Today Means

"AQUARIUS"

If February 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m.; from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

If you fail to place a high value on your time this day is apt to be spent in an unprofitable manner. Don't put your eggs in one basket or try to do anything in a hurry. Through thoughtlessness many people are likely to be seriously inconvenienced. It might be well to remember a telephone call can often prevent a waste of time. It will be exceedingly poor judgment to expect anyone to anticipate your thoughts or needs this day, so it will be advisable to make them known without hesitation. Emergency cases frequently require drastic measures, and should any arise, it might be well to resort to them. This is a day when plain speaking probably will accomplish far more than mincing words, providing it is done tactfully. Married and engaged couples, and those dreaming of a honeymoon together, should consult each other before making any plans.

If a woman and February 15 is your birthday, you have, most likely, a forgiving disposition that will save you from many breaches of friendship. As long as you do not undertake to reform your friends or business associates, you are apt to retain your popularity. You can develop a degree of gracefulness that ought to win for you many commendations, especially if you have any histrionic aspirations. You seem to be due to have a very pleasant surprise. Never let sentimentality interfere with your sense of right and wrong, for it might be by trying to make a compromise that trouble will come to you. Through some artistic literary, political or a specialized line of commerical work your future may be assured. Your matrimonial prospects indicate that you will have the wisdom and ability to make a success of your married life.

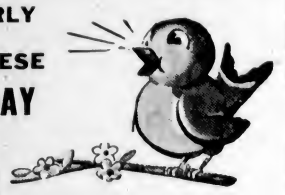

The child born on February 15, should, from its earliest years, be taught the meaning and importance of practising moderation. Having an extremely enthusiastic nature, many of its mistakes may be traceable to an excess of ardor. Success in life, however, will be due to zeal and capability.

If a man and February 15 is your natal day, confusion probably annoys you; a quiet atmosphere being essential for you to do advantageous, intellectual work. Building, promoting selling, technical work, acting, writing, painting or a line of endeavor requiring skillful hands may win for you a reputation and a handsome neat egg.

Seabiscuit Pulls Up Lame in Race For $2,000 Purse

Top Favorite for $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap Suffers Injuries and Is Defeated by Two and a Quarter Lengths—Famous Horse May Never Race Again, General Opinion

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14 (AP).—Seabiscuit, top favorite to win the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, pulled up lame today after being beaten in his 1939 debut by today. Owner Charles S. Howard said it would be some time before extent of the injuries were known.

The mighty Biscuit, beaten by two and a quarter lengths by Today, with Marcia third in the three-horse race, came to a stop after finishing the one-mile race. Jockey Georgie Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., dismounted and led the horse back to the grandstand.

Another Canadian jockey, Nick Wall, of Montreal, was up on Today to beat Seabiscuit for his second time. Wall's previous win over the great Biscuit was in the 1938 Santa Anita Handicap, in which Howard's horse finished second to Stagehand.

Grave fears were expressed Seabiscuit might not race again. Today was his eighty-fourth trip to the post since he began racing in 1935. His earnings to date are $340,490.

ARMSTRONG TOLD TO ACCEPT BOUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—The New York State Athletic Commission today announced it has written Henry Armstrong, world's lightweight and welterweight champion, giving him fifteen days from February 17 to accept or reject a challenge of former Champion Lou Ambers for a lightweight title fight.

Armstrong won the title from Ambers last August 17.

TWO COAST HOLDOUTS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 14 (CP).—Two holdouts of the San Diego Coast League baseball team were told today by President C. A. Banm they would take what they were offered or be suspended.

The holdouts were Mickey Haslin, third baseman traded to the Padres by the New York Giants as part of a deal for Manuel Salvo, hefty Padre pitcher. The other was Al Niemic, second baseman.

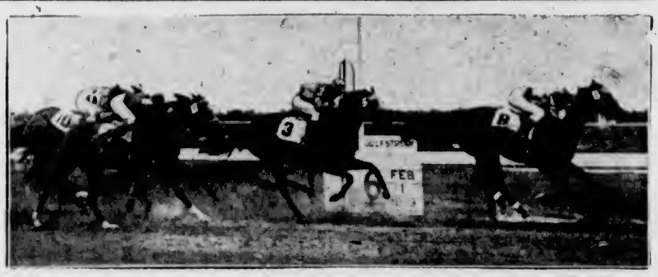

Playing Tonight For Cage Leaders

JOHN MYLREA

YOUNG rookie member of the Dominoes, undefeated leaders of the senior "A" men's division of the Victoria and District Basketball League, who will be in uniform tonight when his clubmates stack up against the Northwestern Creamery, in a league tilt at the High School gymnasium. Spencers and Beavers, senior "C" men's quintettes, meet in the curtain-raiser at 7 o'clock. Unitys and Cardinals, cagette squads, play in the second tussle, with the senior men's fixture as the feature attraction. Tomorrow evening Saltspring and Adverts, intermediate "A" girls' teams open their bids for Vancouver Island honors. They will play at 8 o'clock. One hour later Senators and Northwestern, senior men's quintettes, will see action. The 7 o'clock game has yet to be arranged.

Opening Day at Gulfstream Track

Gulfstream Park, Hollywood, Fla., $1,400,000 horse track, which opened with the biggest crowd in Florida's racing history, closed down in four days. Featuring the opening, 23,000 fans saw the Inaugural Handicap at the new track which opened and closed this month. Shoulder Arms, a Longchamps stable entry, came home in front, with Sun Inplay second and Galapas third in the finish shown here.

Third Period Goals By Bauer Gives 2-1 Win to the Bruins

Young Boston Forward Nets Twice in Final Session To Defeat Detroit by Odd Tally in Three—Thompson Gives Sensational Display

BOSTON, Feb. 14 (CP).—Bobby Bauer, of Boston's "sauerkraut line," plugged home two last-period goals in less than two minutes tonight to pull Bruins from behind and give them a 2-1 win over Detroit Red Wings, who have yet to beat the leaders since the start of the National Hockey League season.

Bauer thus ruined one of the finest goal-tending performances ever given by Tiny Thompson, his former Bruin teammate, before a frenzied crowd of 14,000. The triumph increased Bruins' N.H.L. lead to five games over the idle New York Rangers.

Bauer was fed passes by Eddie Shore for both his goals. Those tallies came while Bruins were trailing as a result of Hec Kilrea's goal early in the second period.

Seventeen shots were fired at Thompson during the wild third period before Bauer laced a ten-footer into the net. As if inspired by that success, Bobby then swooped in from the left boards to slap home the winning tally.

LINE-UPS

Detroit—Thompson, Goodfellow, Bowman, Giesebrecht, Kilrea, Lewis. Subs, Stewart, Barry, Howe, Liscombe, Wares, C. Conacher, Besler, Motter.

Third Period—2, Boston, Bauer (Schmidt, Shore), 13:53; 3, Boston, Bauer (Dumart, Shore), 15:30.

CAFEMEN SCORE UPSET VICTORY

Liberty Squad Defeats MacDonald Electric, 9-7—Renfrew Brothers Win

With teams in the Victoria Table Tennis Association heading down the home stretch and fighting for the four play-off berths, interest in the first division race reached a new high last night at the Crystal Garden.

Liberty Cafe, making a game bid to qualify for the post-season playdowns, made their presence felt by defeating MacDonald Electric, 9-7. The defeat dropped the Electric team to second place, two points behind the leaders.

Paced by Ab Renfrew, their captain, Renfrew Brothers turned back Royal Arcanum, 9-7, and moved into undisputed occupation of the premier position in the league race. Louis Nelson's Garage pulled up to within one point of MacDonald Electric when they trounced Fairfield, 14-2. In the other match on the evening's schedule, Murphy Electrons defeated Hollywood, 14-2.

Scores.

Liberty Cafe—Jarvis 2, Greenwood 4, Ketcheson 2 and J. Corcoran 1.

MacDonald Electric—Tully 2, Browne-Cave 3, Craven 0 and Holstein 2.

Renfrew Brothers—Lukey 2, Tysoe 2, Bladen 1 and Renfrew 4.

Royal Arcanum—Bowden 3, Crombie 1, Lynch 2 and Chatteil 1.

Louis Nelson's Garage—Dawson 2, Henry 4, Corcoran 4 and Cotton 4.

Fairfield—A. Elworthy 0, Campbell 1, D. Elworthy 1 and Prior 0.

Murphy Electrons—W. Robinson 3, D. Robinson 4, A. Jordan 4, and R. Peebles 3.

Hollywood—Minnis 2, S. O'Connell 0, Kershaw 0 and R. O'Connell 0.

STREATHAM CLUB OUT OF LEAGUE

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP).—The Streatham Club of the English National Hockey League announced today it was withdrawing from the circuit in protest against suspension of three players by the British Ice Hockey Association.

Streatham defied the ban imposed February 8 on Right Winger Jules Blais, of Victoriaville, Que., Centre Gordon Day, of Ottawa, and Goalie Louis St. Denis, of Ottawa. That night they used the three players and defeated Brighton Tigers, 5-4.

The game was awarded to Brighton and Managing Director A. E. Warman asked the B.I.H.A. to reconsider the suspensions against the three Streatham players. The players had been barred for misconduct in a previous game.

Warman claimed Streatham could not have raised a team to play Brighton without the suspended players, because six other players were out of action due to injuries. When the B.I.H.A. refused to reconsider its decision, the club announced its withdrawal.

Warman said the team might tour the Continent before disbanding. Streatham's action will be discussed tomorrow by the B.I.H.A.

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica, Feb. 14 (CP).—United States players swept three matches with English tennis stars in an international exhibition tournament here yesterday.

Elwood Cooke and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, United States, defeated C. E. Hare and Mary Hardwicke, 6-2, 6-1; Hal Surface, United States ace, overcame C. M. Jones, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0, and Mrs. Fabyan and Katherine Winthrop defeated England's Peggy Scriven and Miss Hardwicke, 6-3, 6-4.

Joe Louis Will Face Roper for Crown April 18

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP).—Mike Jacobs, head of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, today set Tuesday, April 18, as the date on which Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight championship against Jack Roper, of California, in the Los Angeles baseball park.

STORE ELEVENS TO PLAY TODAY

Hudson's Bay and Spencers Meet at Heywood Avenue—Sailors Oppose City

With the Royal Athletic Park football pitch unfit for play, Hudson's Bay and Spencers, mid-week soccer elevens, will perform at Heywood Avenue this afternoon. Announcement of the change in grounds was made yesterday by Secretary Percy Shrimpton, of the Wednesday Football League.

Present holders of first berth in the Pendray Cup race, Diamond "S" aggregation will widen their lead over the second-place Hudson's Bay to four full points, if they take today's match. In the last meeting between the two teams Spencers eked out an odd-goal triumph.

Holding down third position in the chase for the Pendray Cup, Navy will oppose Victoria City at Beacon Hill. With a number of their better players at sea, the sailors will probably have an interesting afternoon at the hands of the City team.

Kick-offs are set for 2:30 o'clock. Teams follow:

Hudson's Bay—Renfrew, Wyatt, O'Connell, Williamson, Kennedy, Speller, Fish, Preston, Okell, Fogden, Oakman, Stofer, G. Fish and Gelling.

PEDENS TIED FOR THE LEAD

Six Teams Deadlocked for Top Place in Chicago Six-Day Race

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP).—Six teams were tied for first-place in mileage tonight, but Heinz Vopel of Germany and Cecil Yates of Chicago maintained a slender lead on points in the forty-first international six-day bicycle race at Chicago Stadium.

The Canadian team of Torchy and Doug Peden, of Victoria, B.C., rode third.

10 p.m. (M.S.T.) standings:

	Miles	Laps	Pts.
Vopel-Yates	812	8	190
Rodman-O'Brien	812	8	161
Peden-Peden	812	8	133

Wins Cup Replay From Sheffield

GRIMSBY, England, Feb. 14 (CP).—Grimsby Town qualified for the next stage of the English Football Cup competition today by defeating Sheffield United, 1-0, in a replayed fifth-round contest. Saturday, at Sheffield, the teams played a scoreless draw.

In the sixth round Grimsby is drawn away against the winner of the Chelsea-Sheffield Wednesday cup tie, the teams being deadlocked, two drawn matches.

Strickland Wins

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 14 (CP).—Maurice Strickland, hard-hitting New Zealand heavyweight boxer, made short work of Frank Donofrio, of Philadelphia, knocking out the Quaker City boxer in 2:35 of the first round of a scheduled ten-round main event at Laurel Garden. Strickland weighed 195, Donofrio 179.

JACK MUIR WINS SHUTTLE MATCHES

KELOWNA, B.C., Feb. 14 (CP).—Jack Muir, of Vancouver, seeded No. 1 in the Central British Columbia badminton championships here, tonight advanced into the men's singles semi-finals with wins over two Kelowna stars.

Muir defeated H. M. Fraser by a 15-7, 15-2 score, then went on to beat R. Lupton 15-7, 15-2.

In the women's singles, Marion Elmore, of Kelowna, defeated her fellow club member, Hazel Browne, 11-8, 11-8, in a first round match. She will meet Eleanor Young, of Vancouver, in the semi-finals.

Jocelyn Pease, of Vancouver, and Jean Bernard, of Penticton, will play in another first round match, the winner to play Margaret Taylor, of Kelowna, British Columbia ladies' singles champion, in the other half of the semi-final bracket.

MAINLAND FOOTBALL SQUAD FORMIDABLE FOR CRUCIAL MATCH

Management of Vancouver Club Announces Line-Up for Inter-City League Tussle at the Athletic Park at 2:30 o'Clock Against Victoria United—Locals to Train Tonight

Victoria football fans are assured of a first-class game Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park when the Radials, smart Mainland aggregation, arrive in the city to battle Victoria United in an Inter-City League tussle at 2:30, with Bill Cull handling the whistle. To date the local machine has only lost one game in this series since the schedule opened, and will be out at full strength to meet the powerful visiting squad. Victoria's team will be named after tonight's workout at the park at 7 o'clock.

The United dropped its first game to St. Andrews by a 6-3 score, but since that reverse the boys have gone unbeaten. They have taken the points from North Shore United, Canadian champions; Radials, New Westminster Royals and played a draw with St. Saviours. Radials, too, have an impressive record. They have beaten North Shore, 3-2; downed the strong St. Andrews eleven, 4-1, and took the measure of St. Saviours by a similar score in the Mainland Cup final.

Jimmy Waters has always been considered a sound goalie and can be relied upon to give a good account of himself. Lawrie is said to be one of the best backs in Vancouver. He is a heady player, while his mate, McKibbin needs no introduction to local fans. The half line of West, Cowan and Camp is one of the best in the province, and should be a constant worry to the Victoria front line. The forwards are clever and are always on top of the ball. Every member of it fires away at every opportunity, and therefore, Goalie Rowe should have a busy afternoon.

FORWARD LINE

Jack and John Johnson form the right wing, and on present form it is the most dangerous right wing in Vancouver today. Jack is a very powerful player, well built with plenty of speed and possesses a great cross. Johnny is a great worker and keeps his outside man well supplied with the ball.

"Hap" Smith holds down the centre forward position. The management of Islington Corinthians spoke very highly of Hap's ability. He is always dangerous and cannot be given any rope. Hap is considered by many in Vancouver as the outstanding centre forward in the province.

Hughie Greer, one of the greatest little play makers in the province, is at inside left. His exhibition against St. Saviours was a treat to watch. He either gets or makes most of the goals scored by the team. He packs a wicked shot in either foot and is never beaten.

LIONS DROP HOCKEY GAME

Vancouver Team Goes Farther in Cellar of Coast League by Loss

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—Vancouver Lions sank deeper into the mire of the Pacific Coast Hockey League cellar when they were set back 3-2 by the former cellar occupants, Spokane Clippers, in a close-fought game here.

Lions made a desperate bid for a victory that would have pulled them into third place in league standings, but the Clippers built a tight defence around the two-goal advantage they piled up in the first period.

Officials—Bill Shaver, Amby Moran.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Spokane, Desroche (McAdam), 3:50; 2, Vancouver, Wood (Hutton), 12:54; 3, Spokane, Moffatt (King), 14:35; 4, Spokane, King (Frew), 19:35. Penalties: Wood and Kenny.

Second Period—No score.

Third Period—5, Vancouver, Wood, 6:11. Penalties: Kenny and Pringle.

Royal Danieli Is Beaten by a Head In Handicap Race

H. Crum's Herodotus, packing only 133 pounds to Royal Danieli's 168, won the race. Herodotus is not eligible for the Aintree classic. Four other Grand National entrants—Sporting Piper, Red Freeman, Red Hillman and Birghgift—also ran, the first named falling.

Cubs Get Whitehill

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP).—Chicago Cubs announced today the signing of Earl Whitehill, thirty-nine-year-old southpaw pitcher, who was released by Cleveland Indians.

Jane Dixon Says:

HERE IS THE STORY OF THREE WOMEN—ONE IS TROUBLED BECAUSE SHE CAN'T FIX HER HAIR ATTRACTIVELY, THE SECOND IS DISTURBED BECAUSE HER HUSBAND DOESN'T LIKE TO PLAY BRIDGE, AND THE THIRD IS ENVIOUS OF HER RICH MARRIED SISTER

Our own troubles, no matter how trivial, seem so much more important to us than the tremendous troubles of our neighbors.

I don't seem to do anything with my hair. It always looks shaggy if I wear it loose, and gives me a plain appearance if I draw it tight. I have just as pretty dresses as the other girls, but my hair spoils everything. It makes me self-conscious and sort of stiff at parties. What can Io do?—Sally Q.

Ask your mother whether you may go to a good hairdresser and have your hair done once or twice. A good one will know a style that is becoming to you. Watch the way it is done and practice doing it yourself. You are right—a becoming hairdress is important!

My husband and I are a part of a very nice little social circle made up of young married people like ourselves. We take turns entertaining in our own homes, mostly at bridge. My problem is that may husband says he dislikes the game and he simply refuses to try to like it. The result is that he plays indifferently though he could do much better if he wasn't so stubborn. He dances well and likes it, and he is quite a fine pianist. How can I persuade him he is wrong about bridge?—Impatient Wife.

Why try to persuade him? A good dancer and a fine pianist is sufficiently entertaining without being facile at cards. How would you like it if your husband nagged you to go hunting with him when you dislike guns and shooting? Not every social lion is a bridge shark.

Younger Sister: The sister who is a few years older than you married a man of means. Your husband is all that any wife could ask, but he is a white collar man and makes only a small salary, enough for the comforts, but not for many extravagances. Your sister spends money lavishly and it makes you feel "cheap." She does many nice things for you and would do more were it not for the fact that you give her to understand you don't want to be "patronized because you're poor." Are you right in this attitude?

No. You are absolutely wrong. You are meeting kindness and sisterly affection with coldness and envy. A woman with a comfortable home, a good husband and a generous sister should have too much gratitude in her heart to complain.

LANDS SAFELY AFTER HOUR OF SUSPENSE

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP-Havas).—After ambulances and fire-fighting equipment waited for a possible crash for more than an hour today, a British Airways liner bringing seven passengers and a crew of three from Paris landed safely at Croydon Airport.

The plane began circling at 3.25 p.m. because the pilot was unable to lower the plane's landing gear.

Nominations In For By-Election

LEEDS, England, Feb. 14 (CP).—Christopher York, a land agent, today was nominated as Conservative candidate in the by-election to be held on February 23 in the Ripon division of the West riding of Yorkshire.

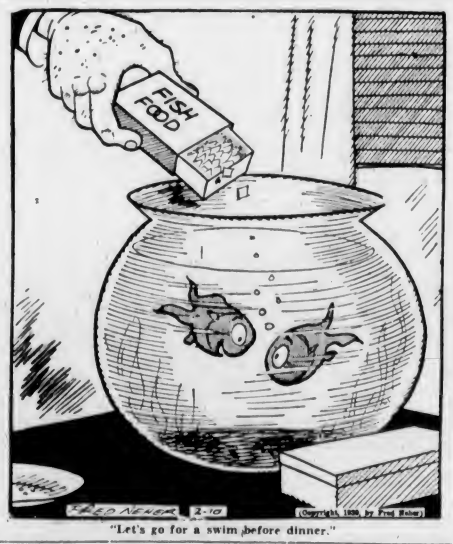

R. J. Hall, who lost to Major J. W. Hills, Conservative, 30,804 votes to 8,116, in the 1935 general election, was nominated to contest the seat for Labor. Major Hill's death necessitated the by-election.

2 DEATHS

DUNCAN—Suddenly, at Long Beach, California, Albert M. Duncan, of 1010 Queens Avenue, Victoria, in his sixty-fourth year, born in Fitzroy, Ont., and a resident of this city for many years. Survived by his wife, one son, Harold L. Duncan, and one daughter, Mrs. Hugh Francis, all of this city.
The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where services will be held this afternoon, at 2.15 o'clock under Masonic auspices. Rev. Hugh McLeod will officiate and interment will be made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

MAY—At the Royal Jubilee Hospital on February 14, Mary Ann May, aged seventy-four years, wife of Walter May, of 2064 Meadow Place. The late Mrs. May was born in Kent, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past twenty-six years, and is mourned by, besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Evangeline May, at home.
The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from McCall Bros. Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. Pastor F. W. Robinson will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

RITCHIE—At the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday morning, Robert Ritchie, aged sixty-eight years, of 1321 Haultain Street. The late Mr. Ritchie was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and had been a resident of this city for the past thirty years and for many years of Nelson, B.C. He is mourned by six sons, Ernest, in Hamilton, Ont., and Raymond, Lorne, Wilfred, Gerald and Douglas, and one daughter, Mrs. H. C. Hansen, all of Victoria; also four sisters, Mrs. G. Winter, of Victoria, Mrs. T. Furnell and Mrs. J. Oughton, in Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. A. Finn, in Seattle, Wash.; also his grandson, Lorne, at the family residence, and eleven other grandchildren in this city. His wife predeceased him on December 16, 1938.
The funeral will take place from McCall Bros.' Funeral Home this afternoon (Wednesday) at 3 o'clock. Rev. A. E. Whitehouse will conduct the service, after which interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CANADIAN DOG GAINS HONORS

Awarded Best of Breed in Westminster Kennel Club Show in East

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (CP). — A young Airedale that first was spotted as a champion while he was ducking logs in a Canadian river, and three veterans of show competition, came through to victory as best of their breeds in four of the major classes contested today in the sixty-third annual Westminster Kennel Club show at Madison Square Garden.

The young Airedale was Fallcrest Harry, owned by T. F. Kenny, a mill owner of Buckingham, Que., and handled by Tom Gately, his discoverer. Competing in his first Westminster, Fallcrest Harry scored a surprising triumph.

The champions crowned in the German Shepherd, Poodle and Collie competitions were seasoned campaigners.

Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge, of Madison, N.J., who each year sponsors the Morris and Essex Dog Show, came up with the shepherd winner in Ch. Dewet von der Starrenburg, which also went best of breed last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman R. Hoyt's Ch. Blakeen Jung Frau triumphed in a field of 104 Poodles and was awarded the rosette by Judge William H. Pym, of Vancouver.

ARE SAILING ON NIAGARA

Eight Canadian Indians Will Take Part in Great Easter Show in Sydney

Eight Canadian Indians belonging to four tribes will sail in the Canadian-Australian SS. Niagara, Capt. William Martin, commander, when the liner sails from Victoria tonight, bound for Sydney via way ports. In Australia the Indians will take part in the great Royal Easter show held in Sydney.

The Indians, in charge of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constable S. J. Leach, are Douglas Kootenay and Johnnie Lefthand, of the Stoney Tribe; Edward Onespot and Johnny Starlight, Sarcee Tribe; Joe Crowfoot and Joe Bear Robe, Blackfoot; and Joe Young Pine and Frank Many Fingers, of the Bloods.

The Niagara will have approximately 200 passengers in all classes when she sails about 5:30 p.m. on the first leg of her long trip to Australia.

Lumber ships for loading at Ogden Point Piers in the next few days include the Nolisement, due today to stow lumber for South Africa, and the Geddington Court, coming in tomorrow to load for the United Kingdom, according to King Bros., while the firm has the freighter Zvir loading today at Cowichan Bay for the British Isles.

MUST BE VACCINATED

Stringent regulations are now in effect at the Dominion Government Quarantine Station, William Head. Orders have been issued to all and sundry having business at the station, including steamship agents, customs and immigration officials, that certificates of vaccination are necessary before anyone can be admitted to the premises.

Probed Crash of Flying Boat Cavalier

North Atlantic in Angry Mood During Current Winter Months

BOSTON, Feb. 14 (AP).—A mounting roster of lives and vessels lost at sea today indicated the North Atlantic is gnashing its white teeth with more than usual ferocity this Winter.

Most serious disaster of the Winter was the sinking last week of the British freighter Maria de Larrinaga with her crew of thirty-seven. Searching steamers found only a field of wreckage at the freighter's last announced position, about 1,200 miles east of New York.

Although the coast guard rescued her crew of seven, loss of the four-masted Canadian schooner Laura Annie Barnes attracted much attention because she was one of the last of the windjammers. She ran upon a shoal in Nantucket Sound, January 18, and a storm finished her.

The Boston fishing trawler Isabelle sank off Scituate, December 13, but her crew reached shore in a dory. The New York fishing vessel Sally Lee struck a rock outside New Bedford and her owner yesterday abandoned attempts to save her. Cape Cod sands trapped the British motorship Lutzen and held her until the sea could pound her to pieces. One of the Lutzen's crew perished in the surf.

The January storm also claimed the Norwegian tanker Jaguar, which broke in two in mid-Atlantic. Another vessel rescued her crew.

TANKER HELD FAST

Even now, the American tanker Lightburne is held fast on Block Island's boulder-strewn shore, her crew safe through a thrilling rescue by the coast guard.

The fact that all the aforementioned ill-starred vessels bore names containing an even number of letters might be cited in support of an old superstition of the sea that an odd number of letters is a fortunate circumstance in a ship's name. However, since early December, there has been on the beach near Chatham a reminder that an odd-lettered name is not certain protection—the wreck of the Boston trawler Andover.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the unwatched acetylene gas light on Gabriola Reef, Strait of Georgia, B.C., is reported not burning. This will be attended to as soon as possible.

TEN-DAY DECK STRIKE ENDED

Officers of Alaska Vessels Vote to Return to Work On Same Terms

SEATTLE, Feb. 14 (AP).—A ten-day deck officers' strike that halted all Alaska shipping here and caused a fresh foods shortage in the territory was ended today but grievances which caused the walkout remained unadjusted.

Members of the local Masters, Mates and Pilots' Union, concurring in a recommendation made by their executive committee, agreed by an undisclosed vote last night to return to work today.

Operators of the three steamship companies, who have maintained the walkout violated an agreement with the union, announced they held to their decision not to negotiate grievances until the officers returned to their jobs.

The union sought increased pay for part of its membership, a guarantee of eleven months' work a year, and separate staterooms for officers. No negotiation plans were announced.

Six ships, operated by the Alaska Steamship Company, Alaska Transportation Company and Northland Transportation Company, were tied up here. The latter company announced its steamer Northland would sail north on Wednesday.

DRAFTS NEW WAGE SCALE

Great Lakes Seamen's Union Will Ask For Increases Next Year

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 14 (CP).—Wage increases for 6,000 seamen on Canadian boats on the Great Lakes were urged in a resolution before sessions today of the Canadian Seamen's Union's third national convention here.

Increases averaging $5 to $7.50 more a month were given as the basis for new contract agreements when union and ship representatives meet during the Spring of 1940 to reach new wage agreements.

MONTHLY WAGE SCALE

The monthly wage scale follows: Deckhands, $60; watchmen, $70; wheelsmen, $85; firemen, $80; oilers, $85; first cooks, on canals, $120; first cooks, on upper lakes, $130; second cooks, $70; porters and coal passers, $60; crews on self-unloaders to receive $10 more a month.

Union officials said wages have increased as much as 40 per cent for the men since the union started three years ago and meant $1,000,000 more in wages for the seamen last year. Wages on Canadian boats are still below United States wages.

ORGANIZE FISHERMEN

Delegates today decided definitely to organize the east coast fishing industry. A separate charter will be issued, but memberships will not entitle fishermen to hold positions on vessels not in the fishing industry.

The convention decided to hold conventions in the future every two years instead of annually. "This time next year you will be negotiating for new agreements and you are likely to need the $3,000 that would be spent for a convention," Sullivan told delegates.

SEAMEN FROM CITY ABOARD

Nine Local Sailors Are Among Quarantined Queen Victoria's Crew

Ordered to Quarantine from Port Alberni when a sick case, suspected of being smallpox, developed aboard her, the British freighter Queen Victoria returned to William Head overnight Monday and is now held there by the Dominion medical authorities.

Arriving from Shanghai early in the month with smallpox aboard, officers and crew of the Queen Victoria were landed and the ship fumigated. Detained for observation for five days, twelve men of the ship's personnel, supplemented by nine seamen signed on in Victoria, took the freighter to Port Alberni, the balance of the ship's crew remaining ashore for treatment and observation.

In the meantime symptoms suggesting the disease developed among some of the men left at William Head when the Queen Victoria continued to Port Alberni. Altogether six cases of smallpox, known or suspected, were at William Head when the ship arrived with the man Jamieson yesterday, making seven patients in all, and may mean that all the members of the crew, together with the nine Victorians, may be held for the regulation fourteen days.

To add to their responsibilities, William Head authorities were also advised yesterday that the British freighter Rugeley, from Shanghai to load lumber for Australia, at British Columbia ports, has a suspected case of smallpox aboard. She was to proceed directly to Englewood, but will come to William Head now for examination, fumigation and crew observation. The Rugeley is due to arrive on February 21.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14 (CP).—George Devereaux and Colin Wilson, young Vancouver Sea Cadets, have begun seafaring life aboard the Ms. Silverbelle, of the Silver-Java-Pacific Line, which sailed from here recently for the Philippines.

The Canadian Travel League reports active passenger bookings for passage to the United Kingdom on tramp freighters sailing with cargoes of grain and lumber.

Canada Shipping Company reports Ms. Hindanger at the Burrard Drydock today for drydocking, painting and the replacement of a few rivets.

Canadian frozen fish, including fish livers, arriving in the United Kingdom after April 1, will require additional evidence of origin, according to word received by W. A. Rundle, traffic manager of the Vancouver Board of Trade. Henceforth, shipments must be accompanied by duplicate copies of the Canadian export entry form, B-15, certified by an official of the Canadian Customs.

According to Culbertson

I must admit that contestants in the recent bridge examination "double-crossed" me on many occasions. On certain questions I had expected a large percentage of wrong answers; on others, a correspondingly high proportion of correct answers. Tabulation of the final results revealed that the easy questions (according to my conception) proved tough, while the hard ones seemed to roll right off the examinees' collective backs. Take question 39, for example:

You are West, defending against three no trump. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

DUMMY (NORTH)
♠ 6 3 2
♥ 9 3
♦ A J 10 9 5
♣ 8 4 3

YOU (WEST)
♠ Q 10 9 8 5
♥ Q 6
♦ K 8 2
♣ K 10 7

SOUTH
♠ A J 6 2
♥ A K J 6 3
♦ 9 7 2
♣ K

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	Double
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the queen of spades, the highest of his partner's bid suit. Dummy played the three and East the seven spot. The very second declarer saw the seven descending from East's hand, he realized the stage was set for a false-card. He played the six and confidently awaited the spade continuation from West.

Let us now look at the situation from West's point of view. His partner had played the spade seven and the deuce was not accounted for. To give West his due, he seriously considered a diamond or trump shift. The diamond shift might be disastrous if South held the A. J. x of that suit. The diamond ace would provide the ideal parking place for the low spade in dummy. A trump shift might be equally bad because declarer then could take the spade finesse himself, draw trump, and ditch one of dummy's losing diamonds. Sad to relate, West decided the spade seven still looked pretty high, and made the expected lead of the spade five thus conceding declarer the contract.

West's decision was not very good. The seven should be considered a come-on card only when some of the higher cards are in view. Sitting West, I would shift to a diamond and if we lost a spade trick, due to the shift, I would let my partner know. In no uncertain terms, that he could very well have afforded a nine or ten spot to assure a continuation of the suit.
